GIRLS DRIVEN OUT OF WORK TO ABOLISH THE GRADE CROSSINGS CHANGES IN TARIFF BILL

Cannot Take Jobs in the Stores Evenings and Lose $100 a Year — Married Women Want Places

Over 200 women and girls of this city who have been employed at the different stores and business places on Monday or Saturday evenings after completing a week's work in a factory or shop have been obliged to give up their store work in order to comply with the new labor law, which has caused considerable inconvenience throughout the state. The law states that no woman may work more than 51 hours a week regardless of her age or not more than 10 hours in one day.

It has been the custom of a number of Lowell girls who work in shoe shops or mills during the week to act as sub-clerks in the different department stores throughout the city and to earn enough money to buy their clothes. Usually these girls worked between two and three hours on Monday evening and about seven hours Saturday afternoon and evening and it was stated by a business man this morning that the sub-clerks employed by him received two dollars a week for this overtime or one hundred dollars a year. They also were allowed a discount on all purchases and many saved considerable in this way. During the Christmas holidays the girls not only earned their wages but were allowed five or six dollars discount on the articles they bought.

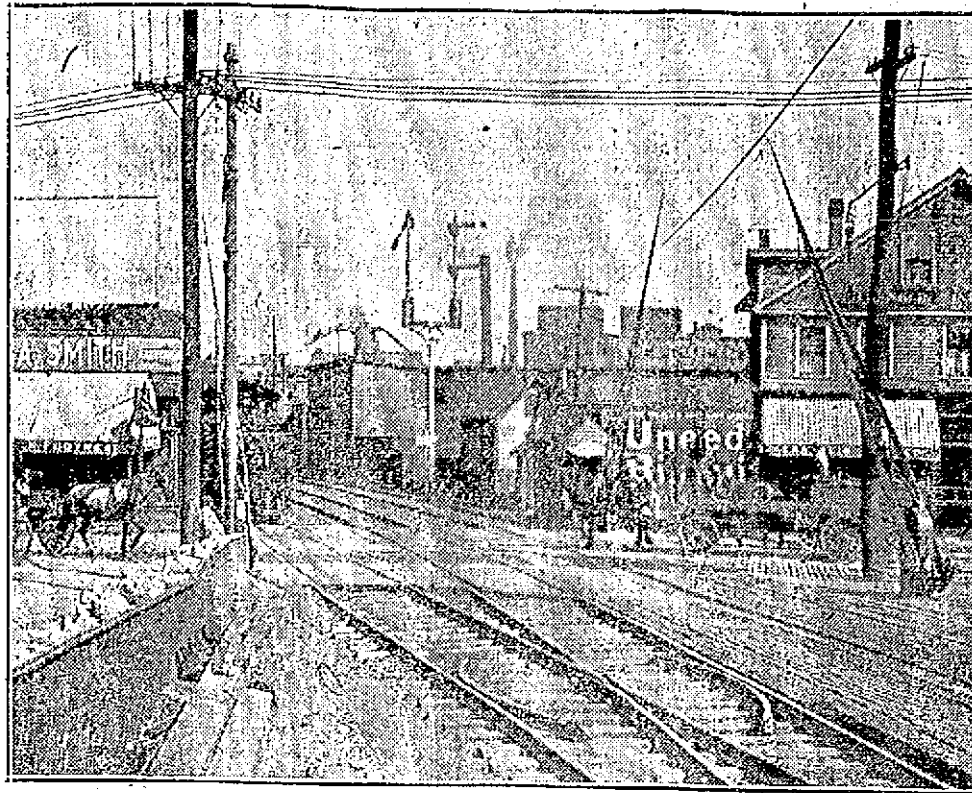

Of course now that the girls have been deprived of this opportunity of earning extra money they will not be given the discount on purchased articles as they have in the past.

This law affects all girls and women who are employed in offices or business buildings as well as those who work in the shops and only the girls who labor less than 54 hours a week may go into a store and work the ten hours that the business man usually requires them to on Mondays and Saturdays. If a girl has five hours on a Saturday morning in a shop or office she may only work five additional hours in a store that day no matter how much she has worked during the week.

Married Women May Work
A local business man said this morning that he has been accustomed to employ six girls, who work in factories during the week, Monday evenings and Saturday afternoon and evenings and that the new law has forced him to send out these girls and seek others who do not work during the week, or else find married women who do nothing but housework. He further stated that on Mondays when his store is opened for more than ten hours he is obliged to compel his clerks to take about 2 hours for meals in order that they may not work more than the time allowed.

Many of the stores in the city will open at 8.30 in the morning instead of 9 o'clock as in the past until some arrangement is made so that the clerks will not exceed the 54 hour law. This will take off three hours a week making the average number of hours of employment between 53 and 54.

Hearing at Cambridge — Lowell Men Tell of Delays at Middlesex St. and Other Crossings

GRADE CROSSING HOLDUPS

Here's what happened in nine hours—7 a. m. to 4 p. m.—at the Middlesex street crossing:

Gates lowered, 58 times; total time consumed, while down, 1 hour and 35 minutes; longest time gates were down, 6 minutes; number of people compelled to wait, 1204; greatest at any one time, 94; vehicles, automobiles and wagons delayed, 398; greatest number of vehicles at any one time, 22; street cars compelled to wait, 35; number of trains coming to full stop while gates were down, 7.

The matter of the appointment of a bridge this forenoon. Representatives of the Lowell board of trade, city officials and others interested in the matter were present to give evidence, setting forth the necessity of the abolition of the present crossings and to give other information in regard to the advisability of making the change as prayed for in the petitions.

Although scheduled for 10 o'clock the case was not called until about the noon hour. City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the petitioners; William H. Coolidge, for the Boston & Maine railroad; Alfred S. Hall, for the Nashua and Lowell railroad, and F. M. Ives for the Bay State Street railway. The case was introduced by Mr. Hennessy and seven witnesses were sworn for the petition.

Apart from the danger to human life, the accompanying figures supplied by John H. Murphy, secretary of the Lowell board of trade, showing the number of trains, delays, etc., at the Middlesex street crossing from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. last Saturday was probably as strong evidence as could be produced for the abolition of the grade crossing at that point.

Philip S. Marden

Philip S. Marden, of the Lowell Courier-Citizen was the first witness called by Mr. Hennessy.

"You are familiar with the Middlesex street depot and surroundings?"

Mr. Marden—"Yes."

Mr. Hennessy—"Is it a congested part of the city?"

Mr. Marden—"It is."

Mr. Hennessy then asked Mr. Marden to describe the character of the buildings and properties on the south side of the Middlesex street going to the canal.

Mr. Marden asked for a map and the same was supplied by Mr. Farnham of the city engineer's office. The buildings and properties were traced and described. Mr. Marden covered the territory between Middlesex and School streets, describing, briefly, the manufacturing buildings in Western avenue and the general congestion in that district.

In reply to questions by Mr. Hennessy, Mr. Marden said there is a great deal of traffic in Middlesex street. It would not venture to say just how many trains pass through Lowell in a day over the southern division but he said there were a good many. He said that there were probably about a dozen passenger trains from the north during the day. He said there were a great number of freight trains both from the north and the south. Some of these stop on that side, and to the mills. He had quite often observed the detention of people because of the gates being down.

Mr. Marden was asked about the Fletcher street and Western avenue crossings and said there was a great deal of heavy traffic at both places; this in order to get to the freight yards on that side, and to the mills. It was necessary to cross Middlesex street, Western avenue and Fletcher street.

"Have you ever been detained at Middlesex street?" asked Mr. Hennessy.

"Yes, a good many times," said Mr. Marden.

Mr. Marden was cross-examined by Mr. Coolidge. He answered questions relative to the tracks abandoned some five years ago between the Middlesex and Merrimack street stations. Mr. Marden said he was not as familiar with the Western avenue or the Fletcher street crossings as he was with the Middlesex street crossing. In abolition of the tracks between the Middlesex street and Merrimack street depots increased the traffic over Middlesex street.

Alfred S. Hall, counsel for the Nashua and Lowell road, asked Mr. Marden some questions relative to the abolition of the grade crossings in Pawtucket street, Walker and School streets and Mr. Marden allowed that considerable money had been spent on outlying crossings.

"Do you know any reason why there should be any greater agitation for the abolition of these crossings at this time than three or four years ago?" asked Mr. Hall and Mr. Marden said he presumed the demand was as great a few years ago as it is today.

"You know that the road's finances are not very strong at the present time," said Mr. Hall.

"I understand so," replied Mr. Marden.

Asked if there had been any great number of accidents at the Middlesex street crossing, Mr. Marden said he didn't recall many.

John H. Murphy

John H. Murphy, secretary of the Lowell board of trade, was the next witness. Replying to questions by Mr. Hennessy, Mr. Murphy said that the Lowell board of trade has a membership of about 800 and that the men constituting the board are representative business men.

He said that the population of Lowell, according to the last census, was 106,294 and that Lowell's manufacturers are diversified. He said that about amendments in the two weeks' fight in the conference committee many important changes were retained and the general average of rates of the house bill was reduced about four per cent. ad valorem.

Important Changes

In a summary of the agreements that have been informally announced from day to day during the conference work the report shows the following important alterations of the original Underwood house bill:

The tax rate on incomes above $75,000.

all of the small factories were fairly close to the depot.

Asked if he would consider the Middlesex street depot the center of the city, he replied that it was not the center of the city from a topographical point of view but that it was pretty nearly the manufacturing center.

Asked about the great number of freight coming to Lowell, Mr. Hennessy said that with the exception of the comparatively small amount of freight coming over the western division the freight had to cross the Middlesex street crossing.

He said that all the freight for the mills had to go that way and across Western avenue and Fletcher street. He spoke of the great number of freight shifting across Fletcher street and along Dutton street. Mr. Murphy said that all of the freight going to and coming from the seven big cotton mills and the Bigelow Carpet company had to go that way.

It was at this point that Mr. Murphy gave the very interesting figures having to do with the number of trains over Middlesex street, the delay on account of lowered gates, etc. The figures were gathered last Saturday from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. It was very plain that the figures came as somewhat of a surprise to Mr. Coolidge.

Mr. Murphy then gave the statistics of delays at the crossing as quoted above.

Mr. Murphy gave other information and stated that 95 per cent of all the soft coal coming to Lowell had to cross Middlesex and Fletcher streets. The map, or blue print, was used by Mr. Murphy in describing places and conditions and he said, among other things, that the reason why there were not more accidents at the Middlesex street crossing was because of the fact curves are met with in approaching the station especially from the north. He said there had been no material development in Middlesex street for the last twelve years.

Mr. Ives for the Bay State Street Railway said "Then, Mr. Murphy, the reason why you believe the Middlesex street crossing should be abolished is because of the hindrance to travel?"

"And the possibility of danger to human life," said Mr. Murphy.

John H. Harrington

John H. Harrington, of the Lowell Sun, was the next witness. In reply to questions by Mr. Hennessy, Mr. Harrington said that the Middlesex street crossing was a dangerous and serious impediment to travel. He said that trains from the north could not be seen approaching the station until they were fairly upon the crossing and he said it seemed common practice for people to run under the gates, which the gates were lowered in their anxiety to save time. Mr. Harrington said there had been many very narrow escapes at that crossing and that those not familiar with the place were liable to get caught.

"You think the crossing should be abolished," asked Mr. Hennessy.

"Yes, I think it should be done away with," said Mr. Harrington.

"If you are a doctor, doesn't it pain you to see your patients, after walking up two or three flights, come into your office completely exhausted? Wouldn't it be better to provide an office in a building where your patients would be carried right up to your office door in an easy running and absolutely safe elevator? The new Sun building provides such a service. Think it over, doctor!"

$6.50 Per Ton, 2000 lbs. number of accidents at the Middlesex street crossing, Mr. Marden said he didn't recall many.

INCREASE IN TAX LIMIT

Mayor O'Donnell Will Again Take it up as Departments Must be Kept Running

The tax limit question is to be revived at city hall, for His Honor Mayor O'Donnell announced this morning he will again bring to the attention of the council the proposition of increasing the tax limit to $13 per thousand, an increase of $1 per thousand, for His Honor believes the city cannot get along without doing this, for there is a new law which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1914, forbidding any department of a city or town to exceed its appropriation, which means that if a department cannot live within the appropriation voted it at the first of the year, no loan can be legally made and the department will be forced to stop operations.

Before this year is over several thousand dollars will be borrowed; just what the amount will be is not yet known, but it is safe to say that the school department will need about $32,000, while the mayor's department will call for $12,000.

"The only way out of it," said His Honor, "is to increase the tax limit, and that is what I will again try to do. Section 19 of chapter 719 of the acts of 1913, gives the city government the privilege to provide by an ordinance an increase in the tax limit. The matter of increasing the tax limit was never voted upon by the council, but simply a motion to authorize the solicitor to draw up an ordinance, the same to be voted upon later. Now the matter will again be brought to the attention of the council and a vote will be taken on a motion of increasing the tax limit."

Purchasing Department

Purchasing Agent Foye this morning received bids for a carload of No. 1 clipped oats for the fire department, and the bids submitted were as follows: Joseph Mullin, 51 cents per bushel; T. J. McDonald, 50 cents per bushel; Wilder & Wotton, 50 per bushel. Inasmuch as the two last named have presented similar bids, the contract has not been awarded.

DANGER SIGNALS TO WOMEN

Is what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness and the blues. In nine cases out of ten they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, curable by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

IF YOU ARE PREJUDICED

Against Coke, the reason to me is plain. You simply have never had the new OTTO COKE. Not so bulky as other cokes, neither is real oats as bulky as chaff. Put up in burlap bags, eighty pounds to the bag, $6.50 per ton, 2000 lbs.; $3.25 per half ton, 1000 lbs.; $5.00 per chaldron, 1440 lbs.; $2.75 per half chaldron, 720 lbs.

Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

"NO VOTE, NO PROPERTY SAFE"

Militant Arson Squad Set Fire to Golf Links at Yarmouth, Eng.

Left Note Saying They Also Set Big Timber Yard Fire

YARMOUTH, England, Sept. 27.—Militant suffragette arson squads were again busy last night and destroyed the greens of the municipal golf links here with acid. The women left a confession of their crime on the ground in a note saying:

"The timber yard was set fire to by us." This had reference to a fire which on Saturday had destroyed $175,000 worth of timber at a lumber yard in this city.

The confession added: "We poured oil on the planks, and left a candle burning."

Other cards were found on the links bearing the message: "No vote, no sport; no peace; no property safe."

WEDDING DECLARED OFF

Paul Zerrahn Who Worked in Lowell Claimed to Have Been Blackjacked

Paul Zerrahn, a prominent young man of Milton, and son of Carl G. Zerrahn, returned to his home last evening after having been absent since Monday last. Following his disappearance last week, announcement was made of the indefinite postponement of his marriage to Miss Madeline Brown, a society girl of Quincy. Mr. Zerrahn, senior, stated that his son had been away on a business trip. He also said that the young man's return will not affect the indefinite postponement of the wedding.

Injured in Lowell
Mr. Zerrahn said that because of the poor condition of his son's health, it was thought best to postpone the wedding.

"The young man has not been himself since an experience that he underwent in Lowell some weeks ago. He has suffered from lapses of memory. The young man was for about a year employed by the Lowell Electric Light corporation and it was on August 15 that the alleged incident occurred. A Sun representative talked with Dr. Stewart, who was one of the physicians to attend Zerrahn at that time. According to the story received from the doctor and others, Zerrahn, who was a collector on the afternoon in question, came into the office, turned in his collection, and went home to supper. Later in the evening, something apparently happened that affected his mental faculties. The company is said, engaged the services of Dr. Ralph Stewart, and Dr. Field, and a trained nurse to care for the young man. Young Zerrahn stated that he had fallen down a long flight of stairs in Howard street while on a business visit, and later, it is said, he claimed to have been thrown down stairs, or struck over the head with a blackjack. His stories were so incoherent and his mind so cloudy that it was difficult to ascertain just what did happen him. No complaint was made to the authorities.

Dr. Stewart said this morning, that the young man was slightly paralyzed on one side, but had fully recovered from his injury later. The wedding, which was to have taken place Oct. 15, was indefinitely postponed after Mr. Zerrahn, father of the young man, and George H. Brown, father of the bride-to-be, had conferred on the subject. Elaborate plans had been laid for the marriage. It was to have been an event of the season in Greater Boston society. The prominence of both families and the lavish arrangements that had been made caused the expectancy of society folk to centre on the affair. Bishop Lawrence was to have officiated and the wedding ceremony was to have been performed in Christ church, Quincy.

Would Have Lived in Lowell
There were to have been eight bridesmaids. They were chosen from among leading families of Greater Boston. Several hundred invitations had been addressed in readiness for the mails. Even their new home was in waiting. It was a sumptuously furnished double in Lowell.

Then came the announcement that the wedding had been called off. So far had preparations proceeded that the young women who were to act as bridesmaids had completed plans for a trip to New York, where they were to procure their gowns. They were notified of the unexpected turn in the affair and their New York journey was cancelled.

Carl Zerrahn, father of the young man, resides at 557 Canton avenue, Milton. He is identified with a leading Boston business house.

George H. Brown, father of Miss Madeline Brown, is an attorney whose offices are located in the Tremont building.

To a reporter who called at the Boston residence in Quincy Mr. Brown said:

"There is absolutely nothing that I shall say for publication."

A neighbor of the Browns gave a vivid description of the "coming out" party of Miss Madeline Brown last May. It was at this party that her betrothal to Zerrahn was announced.

ULSTERS CAN'T STOP FREEDOM

John Redmond Says Carson's Policy Is Preposterous

Home Rule Will Be Established in Spite of Them, He Says

CAHIRIVEEN, Ire., Sept. 29.—"Sir Edward Carson and his friends have supplied the newspapers with amusing silly-season copy which has made the sea serpent pale into insignificance," said John B. Redmond, the Irish nationalist leader, replying to an address of welcome here yesterday.

The Ulster provisional government, he said, would require many millions of capital; would cut itself off from the imperial government and the Irish government; from old-age pensions and the benefits of the insurance act; from imperial grants for education, agriculture and public works; from the operations of the housing and land purchase acts and from the postoffice. No merchant could draw a legal check, give a legal receipt or recover a debt outside of Ulster.

"The whole thing is a gigantic and preposterous absurdity," he exclaimed. "It is meant merely for English consumption. But the English people are neither fools nor cowards. They won't be humbugged by talk about provisional governments nor intimidated by the wooden muskets of Ulster."

In a second speech Mr. Redmond said that the home rulers were silent, law-abiding and orderly, while their opponents were shrieking and boasting of illegality and inciting to riot and bloodshed.

Knowing that the destruction of the home rule bill would mean the breaking down of the government's other reforms—Welsh disestablishment and the abolition of plural voting—and would mean also the restoration of the veto of the house of lords and the defeat of British democracy for a generation, he said, it was no wonder that Ireland maintained an attitude of self-restraint and confidence.

Speaking of Earl Loreburn's conference proposal, he said: "I have remained silent up to the present on this matter and my silence has been adversely commented upon in some quarters. I wish to say no word that might injure the prospects, however vague, of the bill passing by agreement. If Earl Loreburn's suggestions had no other off-set it must have convinced everyone of the true character of the miscalled Ulster opposition. It is implacable and irreconcilable and is based on no reason or argument. Its root is the old spirit of ascendancy."

The home rulers would not throw the work of 50 years into the melting pot, he continued. The only argument of the opposition was a brutal, no-passionate to the demands of the British nation.

"We will establish the freedom of Ireland," he said, "without them, and if necessary, in spite of them. Our ship is at the harbor mouth, the glass is set fair and the orders are 'full steam ahead.'"

11 KILLED IN RACE RIOTS

Negroes Shot up Harriston, Miss. —Officers and Negroes Clash at McBee, S. C.

HARRISTON, Miss., Sept. 29.—As a result of two negroes named Jones going on a cocaine jag here yesterday, a race riot was started in which three white men were killed, five seriously injured, others slightly hurt, seven negroes killed and 18 slightly wounded. The riot was started by the battle by resisting officers and white citizens trying to arrest them, was shot and died; the other was captured and lynched.

The Dead
HAMMETT, SHERIFF G. B., of Jefferson county, white, shot while leading a posse to the place where the Jones brothers were hiding.

KEINLEY, FORMER CONSTABLE FRANK, white, shot at his home after being called to the door.

PREMAN, CLAUDE, white, of Fayette, shot at the railway station while awaiting a train.

JOHANA Aiken, TOM WEEKS, JESSE THOMPSON, TELLER WARREN and THEAD GRAYSON, negroes killed during promiscuous shooting.

WALTER and WILLIS JONES, negroes, lynched.

The Wounded
GILLIE, Former Sheriff Orrin, white, shot in shoulder, and may die.

Appleby, E. B., white, conductor of train, shot in breast, leg and arm; dangerous.

McCallie, William, white, shot in thigh.

Keinley, William, white, son of Frank Keinley, shot in hand.

Dennis, William, white, shot in leg.

Bond, W. C., white, shot in leg.

Multis Called Out
Immediately after the first shooting, appeals for help were sent out and a company of militia was sent from Natchez, accompanied by the sheriff and chief of police. Negroes joined the two blacks in fighting the officers, being entrenched in the railroad station, and not until their ammunition was exhausted could the besiegers force their way into the depot. Even then the blacks resisted fiercely.

The negro youths who precipitated the riot were Walter Jones, 16, and his brother, Willis Jones, 18 years old. The negroes after a Saturday night celebration spent the early part of Sunday in "Natchez Town." Here a dispute arose between them and two other negroes. Revolvers were drawn and in two duels the two other negroes were slain.

The two boys soon after leaving their home, went to the home of Former Constable Frank Keinley, and when he responded to their call to come out he was shot through the head by Walter Jones. Keinley's son, William, saw his father fall and reached for a gun, but before he could fire he received a bullet in one of his hands.

The Yarro & Mississippi Valley depot is near the Keinley home and the two negroes walked in that direction. A train had arrived from Natchez just a few moments before and Conductor E. B. Appleby was standing at the station talking to Flagman W. C. Bond. Without warning, the two negroes fired on them and both fell. Then the negroes directed their fire at Claude Freeman, who was waiting for a train to take him to his home at Fayette, Miss. He was instantly killed.

The negroes then fled into the train, terrorizing the passengers. A sleeping car from Natchez left every night at Harriston until the through train from Memphis to New Orleans arrives. After the train from Natchez had departed this car was a target for fire of the two negroes. While many windows were broken no occupant of the car was hurt.

Wholesale Killing
With the blood lust at the highest pitch, the two negroes made their way to a cotton-seed house nearby. It is believed they then realized that this wholesale killing could not long continue without opposition and they determined to make their last stand at the seed house.

Frightened citizens by this time had gathered their wits and telephoned for Sheriff Hammett at Fayette. Summoning former Sheriff Gillis to accompany him, Hammett started for Harriston on horseback, arriving about 5 o'clock. A small crowd of men were firing into the seedhouse, but no one had ventured to lead the posse to the place.

Taking a few men with him, Sheriff Hammett, heavily armed, started toward the seedhouse, whereupon Walter Jones went to the tall grass nearby and as Hammett approached the negro fired, killing him instantly. A shot from the seedhouse brought down Gillis.

By this time the countryside had been aroused and farmers came pouring in from every direction. A general fusillade of shots was directed at the seedhouse. A call was sent to Gov. Brewer for troops.

Jones Boys Killed
Finding his hiding place too precarious, Willis Jones started to run toward a cotton-seed house nearby, but had gone only a few steps when a bullet ended his life. A rope was placed around the body, it was strung up to telegraph pole near the station and became a target for everyone not shooting at the seedhouse.

Soon after Willis Jones was killed Walter Jones picked Tom Weeks, a negro, off the coal chute by his deadly aim. Weeks fell to the ground dead. Not long after Weeks was killed the special train bearing the Natchez guardsmen arrived.

While the soldiers were detaining the crowd rushed to the seedhouse. Not a shot greeted them and as the leaders went into the place with drawn weapons they found Walter Jones completely unharmed but not injured. They quickly placed a rope around his neck and rushed him to the coal chute. As the negro was drawn up, the rope broke and he fell heavily to the ground. Not a word or act of protest came from Jones when a larger rope was drawn around his neck and again he was pulled up. A large crowd looked on as the drug-saturated body writhed until life was extinct.

The crowd then went to the home of the Jones negroes, where they found two negro men, whom they were about to lynch when officers persuaded them to desist.

Quiet Restored
It is believed that the Jones negroes had planned details of their murderous night, as they were well armed and had a plentiful supply of ammunition. Their mother said one of them remarked that he was going to "shoot up" the town, but she thought he was joking.

There was no indication of further trouble after Walter Jones was lynched, and the Natchez guardsmen returned home.

The negro population appeared to be as much incensed at the Jones brothers as were the whites. The negroes expressed no indignation at the lynching.

Last night the bodies of the Jones brothers still were hanging to the coal chute. The authorities have decided not to hold a coroner's inquest.

TWO NEGROES AND A WHITE MAN FATALLY INJURED IN RIOT AT LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—Two negroes and a white man were wounded, probably fatally, here yesterday in a fight which followed efforts of several white men to stop a general melee among negroes. About 20 negroes, men and women, were engaged in a fight with bricks when five white men drove through the alley where the blacks were fighting. According to the whites, the negroes resented their efforts to stop the brick-throwing and assaulted them.

Martin Huesman, white, is in the hospital with razor and knife wounds, which are expected to prove fatal. Two negroes were shot and are expected to die.

CONSTABLE KILLED AND SHERIFF WOUNDED BY NEGRO WHO LATER PERISHED IN FIRE

McBEE, S. C., Sept. 29.—J. S. King, a magistrate's constable, was shot and instantly killed and Sheriff R. P. Douglas and Deputy Abbott were wounded yesterday by James Davis, a negro desperado, who subsequently perished in the burning ruins of his house near Milledenford, this county. A posse searching for Davis' wife, who assisted him in his fight against the officers, but escaped before the house was set on fire.

Davis was wanted for shooting at Leslie Burr, white, near Milledenford, Saturday. Sheriff Douglas and his deputy attempted to arrest the negro. Davis whipped out a revolver and fired, wounding both the sheriff and his deputy. The negro, with his wife, then took refuge in his house which he barricaded. The sheriff returned with a posse and found the house apparently deserted. Suddenly a shot sounded and King fell dead. The negro rushed out and was greeted by a storm of bullets. Apparently badly wounded, he turned back and crept under the burning house. No trace of him was seen thereafter.

CIRCULAR FROM THE CARDINAL

Announcing Collection for Diocesan Charitable Institutions Read

October Devotions Will Open in All Catholic Churches Wednesday

At the various masses at the Catholic churches throughout the city yesterday morning, there was read a circular from His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, announcing the fact that on next Sunday the annual collection for the diocesan charitable institutions will be taken up in all of the churches of the diocese.

In this circular, the writer emphasized the importance and the need of contributing to the immense work of charity, saying that there are constantly hundreds of little children and aged people who seek assistance and who must be cared for. This burden is tremendous and constantly growing heavier. Consequently the charitable institutions of the diocese must advance and increase with the natural growth of the population and the facilities for the care of the needy and unfortunate must grow apace.

The circular describes the great work of the various institutions throughout the diocese, the difficulties which have to be met and overcome, and the efforts of those in charge to make them adequate for the purposes for which they were instituted.

The circular stated that the amount of the collection for the charitable institutions of the diocese last year was $28,107.29 and it was distributed as follows:

St. Elizabeth's Hospital	$10,000.00

St. Peter's Church

Rev. John P. Burns was the preacher at the 11 o'clock high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday morning and referring to the charity offering, he said that here in Lowell on the borders of St. Peter's parish there is situated a most laudable charity where more than 100 children are tenderly cared for by the good sisters. Surely, he said, such institutions as the new St. Peter's orphanage, and there are many in the archdiocese, deserve the assistance of the parishioners. In the distribution of the charitable fund raised from the collections during the year 1912, St. Peter's asylum was given $1000.

Announcement was made of the fact that the October devotions of the Holy Rosary will commence on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock and will continue every evening throughout the month, beginning on Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock. The speaker urged all who can do so, to attend these devotions, and he preached an inspiring sermon on The Rosary.

Thomas Markham, who is soon to enter the American College at Rome to study for the priesthood, is a well-known member of St. Peter's parish, and is held in high esteem by all who know him.

Catholic Missionary Congress
In connection with the Catholic Missionary congress to be held in Boston next month and following out an arrangement prescribed by the cardinal, wherein visiting bishops and archbishops will visit various churches on Sunday, Oct. 19, it has been announced that Rt. Rev. Edward P. Allen, D. D., bishop of Mobile, Ala., will visit St. Peter's church on that evening, and Rt. Rev. Philip J. Garrigan, D. D., bishop of Sioux City, Iowa, will preside at vespers in St. Columbkille's church, Brighton. Both prelates are former Lowell boys, natives of St. Peter's parish, and their coming to this section will be pleasantly anticipated by their many friends here.

Invariably when in this part of the country, Bishop Allen pays a visit to St. Peter's, but his coming in connection with the great missionary congress will be of added interest.

MAN WAS KILLED
He Fell in Front of Car and Died in Hospital Soon After

A fatal accident occurred late Saturday afternoon, when an unknown man was struck by an electric car in Chelmsford street. The man, when taken from under the car, was in an unconscious condition and he died at St. John's hospital without regaining consciousness and his identity is still unknown.

The man, so it was said, was walking across Chelmsford street near Grand street at about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and when an out-bound car traveling at a fair rate of speed reached a point near him, the man attempted to run across the tracks, falling in front of the car. The ambulance was summoned and the unconscious man was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died a half hour later. The body was later removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Decensed was between 60 and 65 years of age. He had a gray mustache and was about 6 feet in height, while he weighed about 165 pounds. Nothing was found in his pockets that could help the identification, nor was there any mark on his body.

CRAP SHOOTERS "WISE"
GOT IN ON ANNOUNCEMENT THAT COPS WERE COMING TO IT AND BEAT THEM TO IT

LYNN, Sept. 25.—Although squads of policemen covered the Lynn woods reservation yesterday afternoon, in search of crap games which were reported to be in progress, their coming had apparently been well announced, for none of the games were in operation when the officers watched the knots of young men assembled in well concealed spots.

Complaint had been made to Chief Burckes, who yesterday planned to search the woods. Knowing that guards were maintained near the reservation, the policemen, all of them in plain clothes, entered the woods from the Walnut-street end, but despite the precaution the presence of the police was well known.

An automobile patrol wagon, was sent along to move the dozen policemen from place to place, but the crapshooters easily beat that scheme and not a single arrest was made. The officers were convinced that there were many crap games pulled off, but they could not catch the shooters in action.

CROWLEY BACK FROM WEST

Where He Attended Street Railway Men's Convention

Tells of His Tour to Salt Lake City and Pike's Peak

President Fred Crowley of the local association of Street Railway Employees has returned to this city after attending the national convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees in

Salt Lake City. Mr. Crowley reports that it was the greatest trip in his union career and although Fred says it would take hours to describe the trip to the west he is giving his friends a splendid idea of what the country out there is in comparison with the east. Although the Lowell delegate has not made any report as yet he states that the business of the convention was very interesting and that the national body is in an exceedingly prosperous condition.

The salary of National President Mahon has been increased from $5000 to $6000 a year and the salary of the members of the executive board was increased from $7 to $9 a day. There were 243 delegates at the convention, there being 69 in the New England party. P. J. O'Brien of Springfield, Mass., was elected a member of the executive board in place of P. F. Sheehan of Brockton.

In the past two years the association has made a gain of 50,000 members. The insurance plan is working in splendid shape and in the past five years this branch of the financial department has increased $55,000. The New England party left Boston on Labor day and a stop was made at Niagara Falls and at Chicago. In the latter city the delegates had the opportunity of visiting the stock yards and were much impressed with the way the bulls and porkers were dispatched. The men spent several hours in the stock yards and considered it one of the greatest sights of the trip.

Stops were made at Colorado Springs and the journey to the top of Pike's Peak was some climb. Greenwood Springs was another place that interested the party and at Salt Lake, just outside of Salt Lake City, some beautiful sights were seen.

One of the things that impressed the delegates from the east mostly was the magnificent Mormon temple in Salt Lake City. Installed in the temple is a beautiful organ and many of the delegates stated that it was worth a trip to the west just to see and hear the organ. Many other beautiful cities were visited and the local delegate, as well as all others, was well satisfied with the trip and the results of the convention.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"The Porch Party," a refined musical comedy by B. A. Rolfe, will be the leading attraction at the D. F. Keith's theatre, this week. With it will appear a galaxy of singers, dancers and instrumentalists. There are 12 persons all together enlisted for the purpose of giving this delightful entertainment, and it is strange as it may seem, more than ordinary versatility is required of them. It is possible, in fact it may be said, that men who can dance and sing, but to ask that they shall also play certain musical instruments is regarded as something most of them do not possess. Mr. Rolfe, when he started on his search for talent, was on the verge of giving up the quest. Finally, however, he came across one person after another who possessed the requisites. The act has everywhere been a huge success, and undoubtedly it will score splendidly here. Mr. Rolfe is the man who has given many successes to the varieties. In fact it may be said that so close to the popular pulse is he that he has never put out a failure. He possesses his own melodies, and is a cornetist of no mean order. The setting of the piece is the front porch of a colonial home, on a summer evening. The pillars glisten in the moonlight and dozens of decorated lanterns swing to and fro. It is an idyllic affair throughout and all kinds of the variety will acclaim it something wholly out of the ordinary.

"The Groom Pretent," a cleverly turned little comedy, played by Miss Cameron and Alan Devitt, is so filled with good things that it is one success after another. Miss Cameron appears as the Broadway show girl who becomes infatuated with the care-free son of a millionaire and dozens of decorated lanterns swing to and fro. It is an idyllic affair throughout and all kinds of the variety will acclaim it something wholly out of the ordinary.

THEY DON'T WANT JOB

Messrs. Green and Legare, Appointed to City Planning Board, Refuse to Serve—Others Accept

To what extent a man should allow patriotism and civic pride to interfere with his well laid plans and personal liberty is an interesting question and there are a great many things that might enter into a discussion of it.

It was asked today at city hall by a man who heard that George P. Green and Joseph A. Legare had declined to serve on the city planning board to which they were elected a few days ago. It is understood that the other three members of the board, Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the Trades and Labor council; John H. Murphy, secretary of the Lowell board of trade; and John H. Wilson, a many time candidate for mayor, will accept.

The man at city hall was not in favor of the city planning board. "What would such a board amount to? What is the necessity for such a board?" These are samples of a long line of questions with which the man at city hall enlivened his discussion.

"Now let us get right down to hard pan," and he looked Owen Monahan squarely in the eye. Owen wanted to have the fellow understand that he didn't know anything about the planning board and that he cared less but the fellow went right on talking just the same. Owen is a gentleman and just for that he went through with it, suffered it, put up with it.

"I suppose the council thought it was doing a great thing when it elected Joe to the city planning board, forgetting, for the time being, that he had given up the postoffice job because of the fact that he was being overrun with business at the Helms Electric Co., and other business in which Butler Ames is interested."

"It wasn't right to ask that man to take a job that there wasn't anything in and there isn't any salary connected with the city planning job. Now I think Legare would be considered 'patriotically bent' or 'civic pride' or 'patriotic' but I don't think he would pay after giving a side job without the marble head. But of course the commission thought they were doing a great thing in getting Joe to leave the work for them. They thought perhaps that Joe would take the job just to keep his name in print and keep his friends interested in good government. I don't think the council ever got together to talk the matter over seriously. Brown and I don't think it over with himself but I don't think the other men gave it the proper consideration. If they did they never would have elected Joe Legare."

"Now as to Mr. Green, and if you'll stand for a little bit of a pun I would venture to remark that George is not as green as his name would indicate. I don't think that George Green is absolutely devoid of patriotism or civic pride, and his possessions along that line ought not to be judged by his refusal to accept the job. George told me himself that he thought the city planning board an unnecessary adjunct and he did mention the fact that there wasn't any salary attached to it."

"Memory hurries back to the time when George was after a job as license commissioner and if the same memory serves us correctly he was turned down. Then why in the name of all that is patriotic and otherwise should George accept a job without pay? Think it over."

"But patriotism and civic pride, so far as the city planning board is concerned, is a big joke. The city hasn't any more use for a planning board than an elephant has use for two trucks. We are paying five men good healthy salaries at the present time and it is up to them to do the work assigned the planning board. If work is neglected by men enjoying big salaries what could be expected of men serving gratis?"

HOSPITAL IN A BOX CAR

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A hospital in an ordinary box car, the first of its kind to be operated by a railroad, was put in commission here today near the scene of track elevation work by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. It will be in charge of a surgeon who not only will give first aid to the injured but will lecture to employees, instructing them how to aid themselves and warn them against carelessness.

The car has a completely equipped operating room and a ward. The interior is enameled in white and a screen partition separates its two rooms. Gas light, running water, an electric fan and many other accommodations have been installed.

SCHMIDT JURY STOLE A SKIRT

Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, Astor and Other Millionaires Summoned

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Considerable importance is attached by the authorities to the inquest into the death of Anna Schneider on Friday next, chiefly because it is expected that counsel for Hans Schmidt, who has confessed to murdering the girl, will question the establishment of the corpus delicti.

Coroner Fainberg has taken steps to secure a highly capable jury to sit in the case. In addition to Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, who has consented to serve as foreman of the jury, Coroner Fainberg has subpoenaed two or more men of prominence from among whom the other jurymen will be selected.

Among these, the coroner announced last night, are John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Vincent Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, George Gould, August Belmont, Geo. W. Fairchild, Henry Siegel, George F. Baker, Robert L. Gerry, Harry Payne Whitney, and Lewis Cass Lodge.

The inquest will be a public one. Schmidt spent a quiet Sunday in the Tombs, his only caller being his attorney. He has adopted a reticent attitude of late and refuses to talk further of his crime.

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

The opening party at the Y. W. C. A. will take the form of a public reception to the new secretaries who are taking positions this fall on the local staff. Miss Virginia Cutler, formerly of the Nashua association, has come as physical director in place of Miss Frances Bent, who has resigned to take the directorship of the gymnasium department in Dayton, Ohio. The other newcomers will be Miss Paula E. Fuller of Kingston, N. Y., who will have charge of the work with the juniors and will be responsible for the extension of the Y. W. C. A. activities. Miss Fuller is a graduate of Vassar college in the class of 1901 and gained her association experience in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Proceeding the reception will be a short program consisting of selections by Mrs. Elsie Powers Corwin, who is well known in the city as a teacher and reader. Music will be furnished by the Germania orchestra. Information about the classes will be given and the various teachers will be present to explain their courses.

Gymnasium classes are to begin October sixth and the other courses including dressmaking, millinery, cooking, literary interpretation and a course in standard plays will begin the week of October 11th.

Thief Arrested After a Lively Bout With Inspector Walsh

Inspector Walsh had quite a hot little pugilistic argument with Paddy Kane, well known to the police as a thief and all around yegman, when he placed him under arrest Saturday afternoon on Middlesex street near the depot.

Saturday a telephone call was received at the police station from Miss Hannah White of 28 Willey street. Miss White informed the police that a new skirt belonging to her had been stolen from the clothes line and requested that the police take steps to apprehend the thief and recover the garment as it was worth $20. Inspector Walsh was detailed to the task and set out at once on his bicycle to round it up.

The officer pedaled his way up Central to Middlesex and then turned down toward the depot, thinking that no doubt the thief might make an attempt to leave the city. Walking rapidly down toward him Inspector Walsh met Kane who was looking neither to the right nor to the left and carrying a large bundle under his arm.

Alighting from his wheel the officer stopped Kane and asked what he had in the bundle. "Nothing but my laundry," glibly returned the man in the hurry and made a move to pass the officer.

The inspector reached out and, with a quick wrench, took the bundle from beneath Kane's arm and without more ado opened it. There, to his intense satisfaction he discovered the stolen skirt.

The main bout went on just the moment that the plain clothes officer stretched forth his hand to arrest Kane. The clothes line thief had no intention of being arrested and showed his attitude in no uncertain way when Officer Walsh reached for him.

Kane struck out with both hands but to no avail for the custodian of the law and order immediately closed with him and both officer and thief were soon rolling in the street. Officer Walsh finally handcuffed his man and arose, thinking that nothing remained but to summon the patrol.

Far be it from Mr. Kane, however, to quit even if the handcuffs did surround his wrists. With one frantic tug, he loosened the steel bracelet on his right wrist sufficiently to draw out his hand and again attacked the officer. This time the inspector made sure of his capture and when he emerged from the conflict Mr. Kane had had a sufficiency of the manly art although the officer did not use either club or twister upon his antagonist. Inspector Walsh received no injuries that could be discerned but the right leg of his trousers was badly torn during the rolling in the mud.

FISHWAY GONE

Mr. Harris Says Way at the Pawtucket Falls Should be Restored

Simon B. Harris, who presided at the first meeting of the Lowell Fish and Game association, makes pertinent inquiry relative to the fish way at Pawtucket falls. Because of the fact that there isn't any fish way there at the present time, Mr. Harris refers to it in the past tense.

The Locks & Canals Co. is required by law to maintain a fish way at the falls, but the fish way, according to all reports, has been allowed to go by default. The matter was broached at one of the early meetings of the Fish and Game association and it was voted to call the attention of the fish and game commissioners to the matter. Mr. Harris believes that the fish warden should look into it and assist the Fish and Game association in having the fish way restored. "The fish way should be restored," said Mr. Harris.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Boy Run Over on Prescott St. Saturday and Taken to Hospital

A newsboy named Louis Marmar of Railroad street was struck by an auto in Prescott street late Saturday afternoon, and received severe injuries about the body. The machine is owned by Rollin Buckminster, superintendent of the Lowell Gas Works, and was driven by him. The boy, it is said, was crossing the street, and ran into the path of the oncoming auto. The brakes were quickly applied, but the machine was not brought to a full stop and the little chap was struck and thrown to the ground. He was removed to St. John's hospital in Mr. Buckminster's automobile.

SECOND VICTIM OF MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT AT BRADFORD—BROTHER AND SISTER KILLED

HAVERHILL, Sept. 29.—Harry F. Lee of North Woburn, who was badly injured in the motor cycle accident at Bradford last night when his sister, Miss Lillian Lee of Brookline, was killed, died early today at the Haverhill hospital.

Miss Lee was riding in a basket attached to her brother's motorcycle when the machine collided with an electric car. Miss Lee died within an hour after the accident. Both were related by marriage to former President Roosevelt.

GREY NUNS OF THE CROSS ARE OCCUPYING NEW HOME IN NOTRE DAME DE LOURDES PARISH

The Grey Nuns of the Cross, who are in charge of the parochial school in Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, have entered their new home, located next to the rectory in Branch street.

The building was purchased some time ago by Undertaker Amedee Archambault, and leased to the parish. The building contains 15 rooms and has been remodeled into an up-to-date home, and the apartments have been divided as follows: Five sleeping rooms, a dining room, a kitchen, a reception room, a reading room, a sewing room, bath and other spare rooms, as well as a spacious chapel on the second floor.

A new steam heating system was installed and the gas piping was renewed. This building has an ell and the lower part of the ell will be occupied by the officers of Jeanne d'Arc Credit union as an office.

The work of remodeling the building was done by Contractor J. R. Martin, while Desrosiers & Bourdeau did the plumbing and installed the heating system.

BIRD STARTS CAMPAIGN

PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE PLANS TO VISIT EVERY CITY AND TOWN IN THE STATE

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—An automobile campaign tour of the entire state was started today for Charles Bird, progressive candidate for governor. Four automobiles carried Mr. Bird and his party when they left his city with the intention of visiting every one of the 333 cities and towns of Massachusetts in the course of five weeks. A life and drum corps occupied one of the cars.

Besides Mr. Bird the party included Charles R. Davis, Fearing Hamer and Arthur L. Hill. The first week of the campaign will be spent west of the Connecticut, closing with a meeting Saturday night at Northampton.

Money deposited on or before next Saturday, October 5, in the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank will draw interest from that date.

POPE PIUS III

Suffering From Great Weakness But Has No Specific Malady

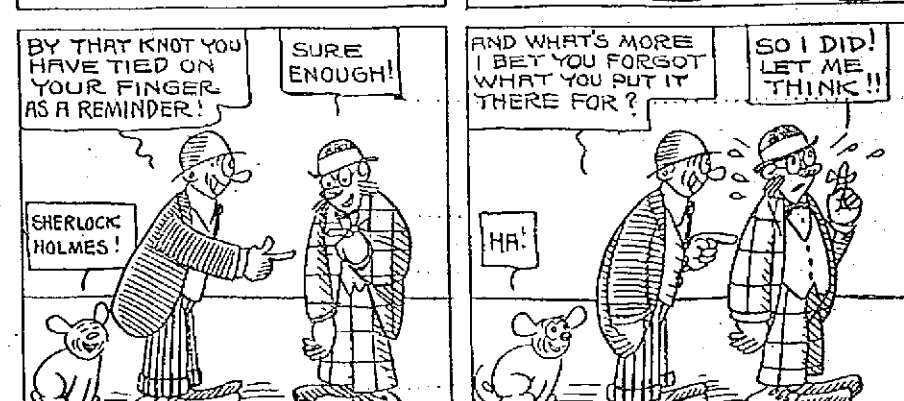

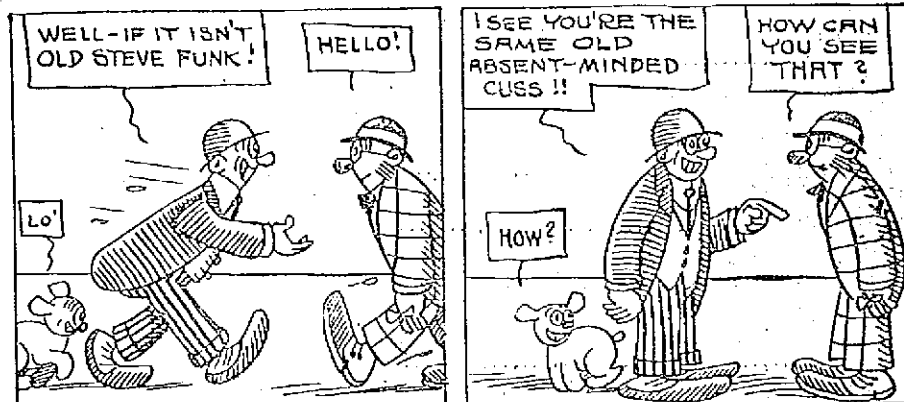

ROME, Sept. 29.—The condition of Pope Pius X. is giving rise to some anxiety. Although not suffering from any specific malady, the state of his health is unsatisfactory. It is believed, however, that rest and care will restore him, unless some unforeseen complications arise.

Audiences have not been officially suspended, but the attending physicians have agreed to discourage reception of any kind until the pontiff has entirely recovered his strength. In view of his present weakness, it is not considered probable that the pope will preside, as originally arranged, at the great function at the closing of the Constantinian jubilee on Dec. 6—the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Cars Collided
Head on Crash at Bedford Yesterday—No One Seriously Hurt—Motormen Struck to Posts
Passengers on two cars, one proceeding to Boston from Lowell, and the other from the Hub to this city, had a narrow escape from serious injury, or even death when the two cars collided head on in Bedford at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The collision took place on the single track at Water street, and is said to have been due to a mistake in signals.

The motormen, Albert Bryant of Lexington and Samuel Simpson, also of Lexington, succeeded in partly applying the brake, thus preventing a far more serious accident. Beyond a severe shaking up and few scratches, no one of the passengers was injured. Motormen Bryant received an injury to his knee, while Mr. Simpson was run about the face. Both stuck bravely to their posts.

The Lowell team journeyed to Fitchburg last Saturday and played their last exhibition game of the season with a team composed of professionals from various other New England teams. Bailey stood the Lowell batters on their heads, Miller, Magee and Daly being the only men who could touch him. Miller drove in two long doubles, one of which resulted in Lowell's only score. Maybom was rather wild. Sweatt played a great game in center field for the home club and also hit safely twice. The score:

INTERNATIONAL CITY CUP RACE
RHEIMS, France, Sept. 29.—Only four starters drew for place today in the contest in the international aeroplano cup at the aerodrome here under the auspices of the Aero club of France. The competitors represented only two nations, Belgium and France, and of these Belgium sent a single competitor, Albert Crombe, while France entered her full quota of three contestants, Maurice Prevost, Eugene Guilbert and Emile Vedrines. The latter is a brother of Jules Vedrines who won the international cup race at Chicago last year.

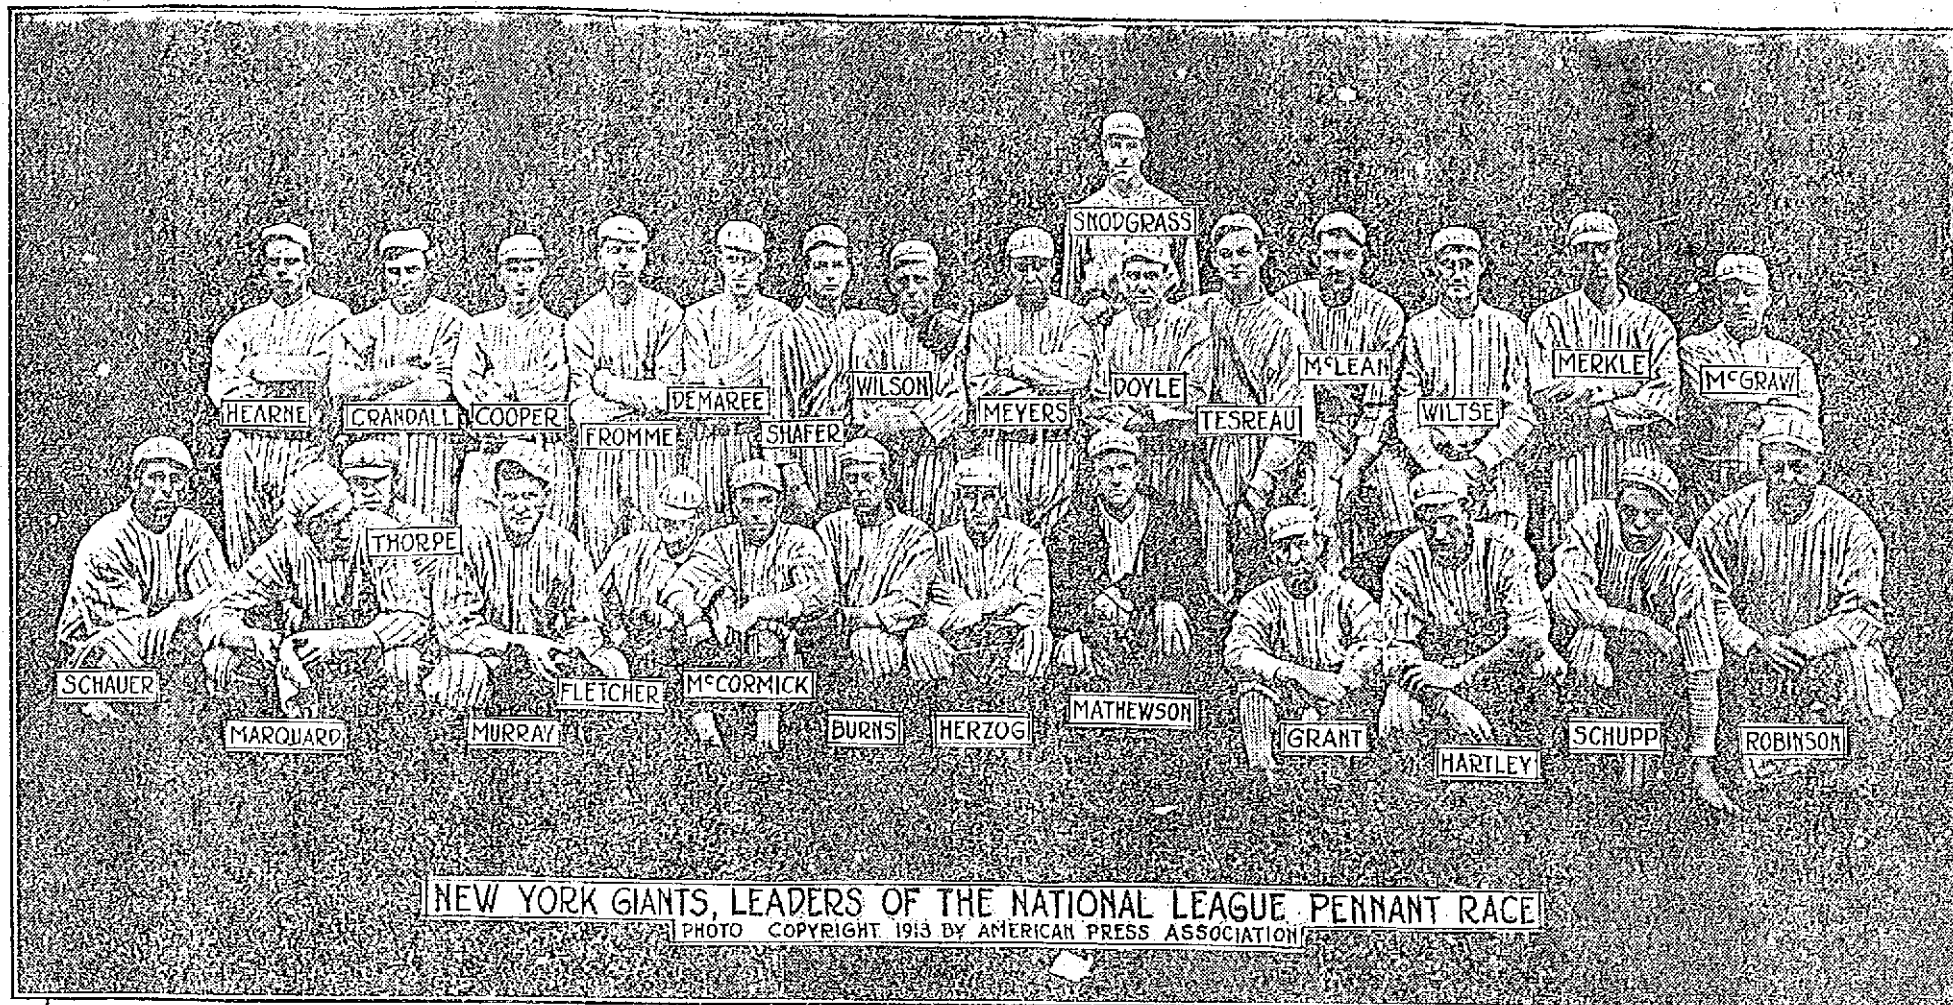

Much disappointment was expressed by officials and devotees of the aerial sport that the United States and other countries were not represented.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Twelve points to the good. Ty Cobb has entered the home stretch in the race for the batting championship of the American League. His chief rival Joe Jackson is hitting at a rate of 33 to Cobb's 355. This speaker apparently is out of it after a rally that threatened at one time to put him on top. He has fallen behind Hendricks of Boston, batting .351 to the latter's average of .355 established in 25 games.

Other American leaguers batting .350 or better are: Collins, Philadelphia, .342; Baker, Philadelphia, .337; Gilhooley, New York, .337; Lajoie, Cleveland, .336; McInnis, Philadelphia, .335; Gandhill, Washington, .330; D. Murphy, Philadelphia, .315; Lelievre, Cleveland, .314; Hanner, Detroit, .313; Hattaway, Detroit, .312; Crawford, Detroit, .312; Stovall, St. Louis, .307; Williams, Washington, .309.

Daubert Heads National

Topped only by Earl Vangling, the Brooklyn pitcher and pinch hitter, Jake Daubert of the same club is practically leader in the National League with an average of .355, five points behind the mark set by Vangling in 35 games. Hyatt, Pittsburgh's pinch hitter, is next with .347 and Cravath, Philadelphia, fourth with .331. The 200 class in the National League includes in addition:

R. Miller, Philadelphia, .329; Beck, Philadelphia, .325; Hess, Boston, .325; Walsh, Philadelphia, .320; Vieux, Pittsburgh, .309; Myers, New York, .308; Titus, Boston, .307; Zimmerman, Chicago, .304; Hanner, St. Louis, .304; Tinker, Cincinnati, .304; Wagner, Pittsburgh, .303; Magee, Philadelphia, .301; Wheat, Brooklyn, .300.

Cravath is still leading the home batters with 18. Luders of Philadelphia is next with 17 and Saier of Chicago third with 14. Baker is ahead in the American with 12 and Yeach of Detroit next with 9. Boie, Chicago, and Crawford are tied for third with 8 each.

Millan, Washington, is ahead among the American leaguers base stealers with 55 and Moeller, Washington, next with 55. Carey, Pittsburgh, is best in the National League with 14 and Myers, Boston, next with 10.

While Philadelphia leads in batting and fielding as well as in the race for the pennant in the American League New York leads in the National only in the chase for the flag. St. Louis being on top in fielding and Brooklyn in batting.

EXCITING TENNIS PLAYED

LARGE GATHERING AT COUNTRY CLUB SATURDAY AFTERNOON—

Nearly 200 people journeyed out to the Vesper Country club grounds last Saturday afternoon to witness the tennis contests which were played on the new and spacious court. The playing was interesting at all times and when the tournament started there were 18 entries, many coming from Boston, Worcester and other Massachusetts cities.

The list of entries was as follows: Miss Ethel Hockmeyer and Percy Parker; Mr. and Mrs. McGraw; Miss Burke and Mr. Wardwell; Miss Sargent and Mr. Warren Scribner; Miss Helen Nesmith and Mr. T. T. Clark; Miss Marjorie Fish and Mr. K. Billings; Miss Elizabeth Wilder and Mr. Sargent; Miss Abbott and Mr. Chaffee; Miss Eugenia Meigs and Mr. Edward Abbott; Miss Helen Gardner and Mr. Nesmith; Miss Gertrude Parker and Mr. Lincoln Clark; Miss Lewis and Mr. Charles Farnsworth; Miss Natalie Fish and Mr. Cunningham; Miss Isabel Nesmith and Mr. Hillbreth Meigs; Miss Brown and Mr. Victor Hockmeyer; and Miss Sargent and Mr. John Abbott.

In the finals, between Miss M. Fish and Mr. K. Billings against Miss Sargent and Mr. Edward Abbott, the play was very close and some excellent work performed by the victorious pairs. The final play resulted in a victory for Miss Meigs and Mr. Abbott who defeated Miss M. Fish and Mr. K. Billings, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 7-5, 4-3 in five exciting sets.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Cubs of North Chelmsford were defeated on Saturday afternoon by the Tringboro A. C. in a fast and exciting game. The score was 9 to 3. A rubber game will be played between these two teams on next Saturday.

RAY WOOD ACTIVE

Fall River Boxer is Very Aggressive—Will meet a Hard Fitter in Terry Brooks.

The members of the Lowell Athletic club should witness a hot full of action this week. For this week bout the matchmaker has secured Terry Brooks, who recently defeated Freddy Duffy, to oppose Ray Wood, who is known as the "Lynch champion." Both Phillips absolutely refused to step into the ring. In the future the management will demand a forfeit for all main bout principals.

Ray Wood, who boxes here this week is one of the most popular boys in the game. Fans can rest assured of action whenever Wood appears in the ring. One of Wood's best achievements last year was a 15-round draw with Gilbert Gallant at Manchester. The semi-final bout will bring together Gus Lenny of Boston and Willie Green of Albany. Green is the boy who recently defeated Tom Williams of Lawrence. Lenny is well known here and has always given satisfaction. Two good six-round preliminaries will complete the card.

KILLED AT FOOTBALL

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERAL SERVICES OF VERNER BELVEA
—TAPS SOUNDED AT GRAVE

GREENFIELD, Sept. 29.—The funeral of Verner Belyea, the Norwich University football player who died Friday of injuries received in the game with Holy Cross at Worcester Wednesday, was held at the First Baptist church yesterday. Rev. L. J. Brace officiated.

The church was crowded and the streets in the vicinity were lined with people. Mr. and Mrs. N. Belyea, the parents of the young man, entered the church first, followed by Miss Helen Belyea, a sister, and Charles H. Spooner, president of Norwich university. Sixty cadets from Norwich university, Serg. Major Murphy, 1st Serg. Craig, 1st Serg. Marsh, Sergs. Ryden, Whitaker and Priv. O'Dowd were the bearers.

A delegation of 50 Norwich cadets in dress uniform occupied the seats directly back of the mourners. Members of the Holy Cross football team, and Capt. A. B. Kimball, Manager C. V. Smallman and Coach Pray of the Norwich football team attended. Nearly 100 young men, former schoolmates of Belyea, sat back of the university men, and all his former classmates who are away at school and college returned for the funeral.

The funeral of the church was a mass of beautiful floral pieces sent by college fraternities, the Norwich football team, school friends and others, with a beautiful floral piece, representing the "Gates Ajar," from Norwich university.

The services opened with the reading of the 23d Psalm. A quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me."

There were few dry eyes in the congregation. Following the service, the casket was opened and everyone in the church viewed the body.

The six bearers marched at the side of the hearse and a delegation of cadets and of Greenfield young men marched to Green River cemetery, where "taps" were sounded by Herman Cross and Fred L. Bennett of Norwich university.

CORNER STONE LAID

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Cardinal O'Connell at noon yesterday laid the cornerstone of the new Church of the Blessed Sacrament in process of construction on Center street near Creighton street, Jamaica Plain. Nearly 5000 present and past parishioners, many of whom had assembled early in the forenoon, attended the interesting ceremony, which followed the last mass of the day in the present church.

LOWELL WON OUT

Defeated Nashua High
at Football in the First
Game of Season

Lowell High engaged in her first gridiron battle of the season Saturday when her eleven successfully challenged the Nashua High school team in the latter city. The score at the end of the last quarter was Lowell 12, Nashua 0.

Brunelle pulled off the most spectacular play of the game in the first peried when he intercepted a forward pass on Lowell's twenty-yard line and tore down through the Nashua team for the first score. Brunelle also featured the game by his superb defensive work.

Captain Jake Cullen at left tackle played a hard, aggressive game throughout and opened many holes for the Lowell backs. His work on the defense was great and he spilled every play directed at his position.

Mochrie, at the other tackle position, also proved himself a tower of strength in the front line. Time and again did this player break up plays before they were fairly started throwing the Nashua backs for a loss each time.

DIRECT PRIMARY ECHOES

A considerable portion of the press is lamenting the working out of the direct primary law, alleging as an overwhelming proof of its assumed ineffectiveness the recent nomination returns. Why these should give cause for regret in this connection is incomprehensible for in two notable instances both the democratic and republican parties demonstrated unmistakably that the people are in sympathy with the spirit of the direct primary and will act in accordance with that spirit despite powerful party interest and boss dictation. Pre-nomination or pre-election activity in the ranks of those high in party councils does not prove that the direct primary law has failed. No regulation can prevent attempts in the part of erstwhile powerful dictators to lead the masses of the party blindly, but no one can compel the voters to mark their ballot contrary to their convictions.

The people fought for the principle of the direct primary at the last elections and the fight is by no means over. What has been done in Massachusetts is no spasmodic indication of popular perversity but a local growth of a significant protest against machine politics and bossism. It is to be hoped that the opportunity for a democratic victory in November will not be lost through any lack of harmony as to the method of conducting the campaign.

PROFESSIONAL PUBLIC SERVICE

The west, which has made some rather startling innovations in political institutions during the last decade, gives us of New England a subject for thought in a suggestion from Los Angeles. The Budget committee of that city recently made a report on civic progress and appended many suggestions for betterment, the newest and most important of which was the addition of a course in public service to the curriculum of the high school. As the Municipal Journal, commenting on this, says, the significance of the proposed innovation lies in its implication that there is an opening in the western city for the adoption of that branch as a life work.

Undoubtedly the great weakness in public life at the present time comes from the realization among those elected to political positions that their tenure of office depends not so much on efficiency as on their faculty of adopting themselves to the vagaries of the public mind. They understand that their term at best will be brief and that any attempt to achieve real reforms would make them unpopular and consequently render them subject to popular disapproval and political defeat. This regrettable condition of the public mind prevents efficiency and keeps municipal affairs especially in a state of continual disorganization. Those who fill city and some state positions frequently leave a private business temporarily which they had made eminently successful but fail to use the same care and caution in the public service which they had previously shown in their own interest. All cities of importance now realize this, but all do not try to remedy it as Los Angeles is striving to do.

The old idea that public office is a species of reward for political service is luckily dying out. So is the feeling that because a man has held an important office for many consecutive years he must necessarily abandon it to give some one else a chance. The employer of labor does not make changes which are liable to effect his business, lightly, and people in general are beginning to realize that those who hold political positions are trustees for the public. A capable and efficient man cannot be too long in office. Changes are frequently expensive, and the thoughtful individual who urges them forgets that he must pay his share of the expense.

We are also coming to the welcome realization that municipal positions can be filled satisfactorily only by trained men—men who have had technical training along the lines of the particular public service to which they aspire. Possibly the unfortunate public attitude which makes public service such a precarious venture for the average man has been fostered by the great influx of men into public life, who, though able and efficient in some particular line of work, were not adapted to the positions to which they presumptuously aspired. When the people come to understand the positive need for absolute efficiency in public servants they will see the adoption of courses such as that suggested in Los Angeles to prepare men for political office as a serious and worthy profession.

In connection with this the Municipal Journal voices the following lofty aspiration:

"We hope to see the day when city employees of all grades, including the city manager or whatever official may exercise his functions shall be selected with sole view to their efficiency in filling the position, no question being asked as to their politics or whether they are citizens of the city or state, but only as to their ability and past record in similar positions in the same" or other cities, and when able men will take up the professional municipal service as a permanent one, devoting their undivided energies to the study of this as others do to law or medicine. Until that day arrives it will be absurd to expect the highest possible efficiency in municipal service."

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

The very material increase in the attendance of the textile and industrial schools for the coming season is a matter of gratification to those in charge of such institutions and ought to be considered a subject of mutual congratulation among the citizens in general. Large classes mean large groups of future mechanics and trained men are vital to the industrial life of the city. It has long been a reproach to the management of the textile school, and possibly to the young people of Lowell in a lesser degree, that the splendid opportunities of that unrivaled institution have not been more fully availed of by our local youth, but it is to be hoped that the large classes there at present are an indication of improvement.

It may be that elation over the large attendance at our schools at present is premature because of the new juvenile law and the enforced school attendance of many who otherwise would be working, but even so there is no reason to regret their choice. Those who have been thrown out of work by its provisions have chosen wisely if they have determined to improve their time of enforced waiting by attending some of our schools. When the law is amended so as to allow them to return to work or when the period of probation is over they will be all the better prepared to face the struggles of life if they have spent the interval in training hand and mind.

FIRE PERILS

The commissioner of public property is doing well indeed in enforcing the regulations forbidding the placing of shingles or other combustible materials on buildings within the fire zone. Our risks are sufficiently glaring at present with our flimsy building construction and the congested condition of many of our central districts without adding to them by entirely preventable means. The activity of the building inspector may be considered a hardship by the offending parties, but it will be commended unreservedly by those owners of valuable property who comply with the law, but whose homes, stores or other buildings are in danger from the carelessness of others. We have been particularly fortunate in escaping serious conflagrations in recent years but there have been many in nearby towns and cities recently that ought to serve as a warning to all and a particular incentive to the authorities to go on with the good work they have so well begun.

It is to be hoped that Colonel Mulhall does not visit us during the period of fervid water discussion for he might set some investigators on the trail of an insidious lobby leading to the Harvard brewery. It is just possible that in condemning our water supply we are acting in a way unfortunately typical of too many of our residents—knocking where we ought to boost. After the filter beds and endless expediting we may find that the water has been automatically purified by faithful public attention.

PHILIPPINE SLAVERY

The new governor-general of the Philippines, acting on orders from the secretary of war, is to make a full investigation of the many charges of slavery in the Philippines that have been made recently by those who are in a position to know real conditions in the islands. It is surely a reflection on our vaunted ideals that we should have permitted slavery in the archipelago while imposing on its natives the unwelcome advantages of our constitution. Even those who so assiduously declare them unfit for self-government cannot approve of their being made slaves.

AUTUMN WALKS

The philosopher and the poet may see in the gorgeous tints of autumn only the tawdry beauty of decay and death, but the average individual whose sense of enjoyment is not warped by unhealthy reflection will see in its sights and sounds and perfumes the most lavish natural glory of the year. To those who walk abroad in an appreciative mood there is more gold under foot than in the fabled El Dorado, and the scenic artists of the woods have painted pictures that shame the canvases of the masters. There is still a subtle fragrance of apple and wild grape in the air and a symphony of all the sweet sounds that will soon be silent.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

AND RIGHTLY SO

Fall River Globe. Candidate Gardner has given notice that he has no use for Chairman Hatfield of the republican state committee in the management of his campaign and Candidate Barry has made a suggestion to the same effect with respect to Chairman Riley of the democratic state committee. Seemingly candidates nowadays are getting to be as cocky and independent as the voters themselves and inclined to adopt the policy of every man his own boss.

SMOKE NUISANCE

Worcester Post. Now the Pennsylvania supreme court holds that a railroad company may be liable in damages for the smoke caused by property from the soot and other emissions of its locomotives. Courts have generally held heretofore that the smoke was a necessary incident of railroad operation. The new doctrine may be of wide-reaching significance as to the smoke nuisance generally.

WHY SHE COMES

Brookton Times. Mrs. Pankhurst says her object in visiting America is to explain why the suffragettes have employed violence in their campaign. We Americans thought we knew, but course we'll be polite enough to listen. Incidentally Mrs. Pankhurst pays us a lovely compliment on our liberality, having decided hat-passing will bring a better price for her explanation than a per-word rate from the magazines.

HOME TRADE

Manchester Mirror. Even if you work for salary or wages, the relation you create in the home stores, by purchasing the home dealer, may be exceedingly valuable in some future exigency. The man to whom you have given your trade becomes your debtor, and if he can find some way to throw favors in your direction, he is glad to do it.

CAUSING A HOWL

Lyons Telegram. If the Boston & Maine railroad is allowed to raise the freight rates to its income by raising the freight rates according to the schedule it has formed, there will be a loud wail from the shippers of the state. The officials of the road say that if the increase is put into effect, the freight alone, the rate will be 21 cents a ton. That will make considerable difference in the cost of shipping and large shippers along the lines of the B. & M. will be affected and already a howl has gone up at the mere suggestion.

THREE DROWNED

Motor Boat Run Down

and Sunk by Fishing

Schooner

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 29.—Three men were drowned and two rescued when the motor boat on which they were cruising was run down and sunk early yesterday morning by a fishing schooner in Gloucester harbor.

The drowned:

William Goss, 37, 11 Home street, Beverly.

Charles E. Bonney, 35, 451 Rantoul street, Beverly.

Spencer Abell, 40, 81-2 Franklin place, Beverly.

The rescued:

Albert H. Peterson, 35, Elliott chambers, Beverly.

Charles E. Webber, 35, 451 Rantoul street, Beverly, owner of the motor boat.

All were of Beverly, employees of the United Shoe Machinery company and members of the Shoe Machinery Athletic association Motor Boat club.

In the heavy darkness which overcast the harbor shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning, while three of the motorboat crew were below, the schooner Ethelinda crashed into the motor boat as the latter attempted to cut across the schooner's bow. The schooner splintered the lighter craft in the impact.

Charles E. Webber, the owner of the boat, was steering it at the time, and Albert H. Peterson, who were the only two men above deck, were hurled into the water by the heavier boat.

The crew of the schooner, William Goss, Charles E. Bonney and Spencer Abell sank with the craft. They had no chance, trapped by the splintered wreckage above them, with the instant flood of water into their narrow quarters.

William Goss, body, that of Charles E. Bonney, has been recovered. It was found in the wreck of the motorboat by G. G. Fitzpatrick, a diver sent down by the Gloucester police.

IN HIS OLD TIME PULPIT

Rev. B. A. Willmott

Preached at the First

Cong. Church

"Conditions of Law and Grace" Subject of

Evening Sermon

Rev. B. A. Willmott preached yesterday morning and again in the evening at the First Congregational church. Mr. Willmott, now of Quincy, is a former pastor of the First Congregational church and he was pleased to meet his old parishioners yesterday. In the evening he spoke on "Conditions of Law and Grace." He said in part:

"There was a time in the history of our race when men understood so little of the universe that they were always living in terror of the forces with which they were surrounded, and they sought to placate those powers, by sacrifices. It is not to be wondered at, when we think how insignificant is man in the presence of those forces. Yet, as men have come to know this universe, they are assuring us that it is friendly—that the things we fear are not to be dreaded—that the laws of the universe are beneficent and its purposes toward us are good. The only thing asked of us is that we understand its laws and its conditions of life, and obey. In all law there is this condition—if you disobey, the forces which otherwise would be friendly, crush life into atoms."

In the same way it is true of society. Society can only exist as it is governed by law; but it is folly to think that to inscribe laws upon the statute books will hold society in the blessed coherence. It is folly to dream that to legislate ever so wisely, will make people righteous. The same law is operative in society that is operative in the universe, and society can only be blessed as the community is a law-abiding community. Obey the law and you will have beneficent society; disobey, and you will have anarchy."

We as American people need above all things to remember that the laws which govern the universe are for poor and rich alike, and the laws which govern society must be just as much for one as for the other. You cannot continue a social structure, where you have one law for a rich man and another law for a poor man. I venture to say that today there are boys and young men playing craps in the streets of Lowell, and I venture to say if the police were to catch them, they would take them into the juvenile court. I venture to assume that the police know of places where gambling goes on by a certain social set that they do not touch and dare not touch. This is not peculiar to your city, however. It applies to every city in the commonwealth. In a certain city, three Syrians were playing dominoes at 12.30 a. m., Sunday. The poor fellows did not know that they were disobeying a law of the commonwealth. The police broke in the door without a search warrant, a thing that they would not dare do in your home or in mine—and the men were brought into court and fined. Yet for seven Sundays, young men were playing tennis right in the eyes of the police. When these three Syrians saw them, I wonder what they thought of the administration of law in Massachusetts.

Three weeks ago, a poor English "bobby" stood on a street in London and saw an automobile exceeding the speed limit. It was the king's automobile, yet the chauffeur had to be summoned into court and pay a fine like any ordinary man. That is law, and that is the only way that America can stand the shocks of the centuries. You have a universe friendly, conditioned on "if you obey," and as in social life, so in grace, you have the gift of the glory of God in Jesus Christ, "if you obey."

I believe most sincerely that, as in the universe, so in society, so in my soul, it is well with me, if I obey. If I do not obey, I suffer, spiritually, as men suffer physically when they disobey physical laws; until at last the power of appreciation of divine things is destroyed and the soul of man dies. I wish that more and more, the young people of America would understand this truth—that you cannot fool with God's laws. When a man sins, he suffers. As the man who obeys stands in the universe without a shred of fear, so the man who obeys Jesus Christ has nothing to fear hereafter.

REVOLVER DUEL

Man Killed, His Wife

and Another Man

Fatally Wounded

WINCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 29.—Ellis Brandenburg was killed and his wife and Ben White were fatally wounded yesterday in a revolver duel in a public road here which resulted from a quarrel over the efforts of White and his cousin Charles Hollin to drive past the buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg were riding. Hollin was arrested.

White and Hollin were on the way home from church, as were the Brandbergs. When White tried to pass the Brandenburgs, Hollin's buggy was upset. Some words passed and later when White and Hollin approached Brandenburg's buggy from the rear, it is said, the latter opened fire on them. They drew revolvers and returned the fire, according to Hollin. Brandenburg was shot through the head and Mrs. Brandenburg was shot through the shoulder. White received a bullet wound through the abdomen.

MEMORIAL MEETING HELD

In Honor of John O'Callaghan—
Fund Raised for His Children
—Tribute to His Memory

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Tributes in prose and poetry to the memory of John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish League of America, and for 25 years a member of the Boston Globe staff, were voiced by men prominent in the home rule movement at Faneuil hall last night.

Not in years has the hall held such a gathering. Creeds were merged into nationality. Men and women came singly, in groups, in organized bodies until the hall was filled with an audience numbering 1200. Men prominent in public, religious and civil life were there. Some knew Mr. O'Callaghan for years as a companion fighting Ireland's battles or as a fellow newspaper man. The purpose of the meeting was not only to honor the memory of the dead patriot, but also to raise a fund for the education of his four children.

Secretary Jordan

The meeting was opened in an able speech by Mr. J. Jordan, secretary of the United Irish league, who said:

"The drum of the famous volunteers of the time of Tone and Grattan is beating yet. The epics of Emmet and O'Connell of the early days of the last century have passed down through successive generations. It was shown in the days of '48, when Mitchell, Stephens, Smith, O'Brien and others were willing to risk all. It was prominent a generation later when Allen, Larkin and O'Brien went to their graves; when Capt. Condon, beside me here tonight, went to prison, and Deasy and Kelley were saved.

"Loyalty to Ireland marked the work of Isaac Butt, who created the words home rule and led to the formation of the party of Parnell with its illustrious names coupled to those of Davitt, Dillon, Redmond and those of the present day.

"It was to this later class John O'Callaghan belonged. He upheld their hands in this country at a time when it seemed the cause was wavering, and he was the one man to step into the breach made by the deaths of Collins, Fitzgerald, O'Reilly and Flaherty in this city.

"He rose to a high eminence and his grasp of Irish affairs was not unequalled in this country. To advance the cause so dear to us all, it is unnecessary to tell you how he planned and worked for that beloved cause. Though gone, his memory will remain as long as Irishmen take any interest in the government of their native land."

Major Fitzgerald paid a high tribute to Mr. O'Callaghan. He said: "Mr. O'Callaghan gave up his life to humanity. His life was consecrated to these ideals. He was the vital force for many years that crystallized the movements into repeated action at a time when action meant something to the cause of home rule. When the Irish landlords opened their purses widely several years ago and said they would defeat the aims of that race for another century it was John O'Callaghan whose voice was raised in reply.

"His ringing challenge that Irishmen in America would meet the landlords dollar for dollar, raised the hopes of his race abroad to renewed efforts; it stimulated the Irishmen here and despite the bitter fight waged against Elin's aims, there never was a doubt as to the ultimate outcome after the acceptance of that challenge was sent flying across the broad Atlantic.

"His heart was ever in his work. He was a great man because he was humble. Is there any more worthy cause to bring us together than to honor a man who lived as he did? Had he lived in revolutionary days, he would rank with Samuel Adams as a leader. Both had ideals. One a leader for the independence of America; the other for Ireland. Boston is proud of that type of citizen."

"It seems sad to look about and see such men as Dr. Timmons, Dr. Dillon, Mr. O'Callaghan and John O'Callaghan missing. All gone within a few months of home rule's dawning. I am proud to be mayor of a city at a time when there lived such men as these, men whose lives embodied the inspirations that brought about the independence of our glorious republic, men who did so much for the freedom of their own race."

Ovation for Capt. Condon

Capt. Edward O'Meara Condon was greeted with a mighty burst of applause. To see him standing on the platform it did not seem to those of the old guard that it could be 45 years since this very month that he stood beside Allen, Larkin and O'Brien facing a judge and jury that had just brought in a verdict of guilty; a verdict that told them death was about to reach out for them, and yet, while standing there at the brink of apparent eternity, he voiced the prayers that have become immortal among the Irish race, "God save Ireland."

A mere youth, only 22, yet a veteran of our Civil war, where he fought with valor, he played a daring part in the sensational rescue of Col. Kelley and Capt. Deasy, for which Allen, Larkin and O'Brien paid the penalty with their lives; a fate ordered for Capt. Condon but checkmated by the protecting arm of Uncle Sam. For 11 years, the best part of his life, he was a prisoner in English penitentiaries.

Capt. Condon's tribute to O'Callaghan's intense patriotism and his many ideal qualities was eloquent and met with hearty applause.

Rev. Fr. Lyons

Rev. Fr. Lyons, who attended Mr. O'Callaghan in his last illness, spoke very tenderly of him, saying that he was present here to appeal to the audience to forget him and work on for Ireland.

Sum of $5000 Raised

Mr. O'Connell Galvin then read the list of contributions, most of which had been received. The sum of $5000 was pledged on behalf of Lowell friends by Mr. E. J. Gallagher.

Dr. James T. Gallagher of Charlestown read a beautiful poem in memory of the deceased patriot and was vigorously applauded.

Thomas D. Fitzpatrick, treasurer of the fund, said: "It is true, I had a long association with Mr. O'Callaghan in the Irish cause. 'What I admired in him was his singleness of purpose, his tenacity, his wavering not to right or left. I was on the other side when the sad news came, and from his words I could see that John Redmond felt keenly the great loss the cause had sustained. So did his comrades there."

"No wonder they should mourn. Mr. O'Callaghan was quick to see when Ireland's needs should be safeguarded. You do him honor in coming here tonight. I have received many letters expressing profound sorrow at his death. Nothing but his love of God and of his country could inspire such confidence as he showed and spread among his companions."

"Mr. O'Callaghan and the others mentioned are gone, but they have erected a monument that will live for all time. Human conditions have been bettered by their efforts. If we go over again next summer when the home rule bill is passed, we shall know what they have done."

"Let us stick to the cause, this glorious cause. The better the condition of the motherland the better the Irish race will be thought of and all over the globe. We honor our race when we honor our leaders."

Letters were read from Cardinal O'Connell who contributed $100; John Redmond, who contributed $125 and the trustees of the home rule fund $1000. Mayor Fitzgerald gave $250, Mr. Fitzpatrick $500 and Philadelphia friends $1000.

MERKLE, GIANT FIRST SACKER, SAYS HIS BONEHEAD PLAYS ARE CANNED

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Of course he'll never be called anything else than "Bonehead" Merkle. He earned that title back in 1905 when he failed to touch second and the Giants lost the pennant, but Merkle has done a lot of snappy playing since then to live the title down, and he's counted on to show something nifty in the world's series. His hitting this year has not been of the variety to set the Hudson river on fire, but his playing of the initial corner is high class.

KILLED CHINESE FOR ATTACKING GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Accompanied by his wife and eight-year-old daughter, Alyn Mason, an American mining engineer who escaped imprisonment in Korea after having been convicted of killing a Chinaman, arrived today from the Orient on his way to Mexico. The Chinese was killed by Mason for attacking his little girl. He was sentenced to three years in prison but Americans and Koreans protested so vigorously he was released.

SCHOOL OPENED STRIKE OF 38,000

Studies Resumed at the Textile School Today —Large Class

The Lowell Textile school opened this morning for the 1913-14 year with a greater number of students registered than for several years. It was stated this morning that there were about 120 names on the register last year and that the number this year will exceed that by many.

Few changes have been made in the teaching staff this year and the hours of study and courses will be the same as in the past. Several pieces of equipment have been added to the apparatus used for manual training this year and the school will be more able than ever to take care of its students. It is believed that a greater number of Lowell boys will start in at the institution today than one year ago and there will also be a number from different parts of New England.

KEEP WOMEN FROM DANCE HALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The thumbs of Chief of Police White have been turned down hard on a plan of resort owners to continue the Barbary Coast on a soft drink basis. "Hard drinks or soft drinks, dance halls are dance halls," said the chief today in an announcement that women would not be permitted in the resorts after tomorrow evening even if liquor was not served.

Notwithstanding Chief White's ultimatum the resort owners were busy today with preparations for Tuesday night's "grape juice opening."

AT NORTH BILLERICA

BOY RUN OVER BY WAGON WAS PAINFULLY INJURED—ENGLISH TEA PARTY AT ST. ANNE'S

Raymond Hand, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hand of North Billerica, was painfully injured late Saturday afternoon when he was knocked down and run over by a wagon used by the owners of Mechanic's park to carry prospective land buyers to and from the park to the North village.

The accident happened near the Talbot mills, where the horse became frightened at a passing train. Before the driver could get control of the animal it ran up on the sidewalk and knocked the boy to the ground, the wheels passing over his stomach. The boy was taken to his home and medical attendance summoned. He received several abrasions about the body and internal injuries.

An English tea party was held Saturday evening at the parish house of St. Anne's mission under the auspices of the members of St. Elizabeth's guild. Tea was served at 6 o'clock and nearly 200 members and friends of the guild were present.

The following program was carried out after the luncheon: Piano solo, Miss Sarah Stott; reading, Maurice O'Donnell; piano and violin duet, John and Sarah Stott; reading, Fred Timmons; song, Miss Clara Wain.

The committee in charge was as follows: Miss Lucy Mills, chairman; Mrs. E. J. Garner, Mrs. George Hurst, Mrs. John W. Scott, Mrs. C. H. Bailey, Mrs. Thos. Ellis, Mrs. Albert Dawson, Mrs. John Sutcliffe, Mrs. William McBride, Mrs. James Sanson, Mrs. Charles Hurst, the Misses M. H. Brown, Ella Whitehead, Edith Mears, Eva Crumble, Mary Barling, Clara Wain, Lizzie Wain, Susie Walker, Irene Scofield and Messrs. C. H. Bailey, Arthur Brown, Charles Pilkington, Geo. Wain, Elmer Stevenson, James Sanson, Fred Mills, Harold Tivey, Fred Brown and George Hurst.

Messrs. Timothy Mahoney and Abraham C. Flint were drawn Saturday by the selectmen to serve as jurors at the October sitting of the superior court.

A meeting of the Billerica board of trade is to be held tonight in a hall and several articles of importance are to come before the members.

Rev. J. F. Limpton delivered the sermon at the North Billerica Baptist church yesterday morning. Rally day was fittingly observed with special music by the choir and exercises in the Sunday school. In the evening Rev. Arthur P. Wedge gave a stereopticon lecture on missionary work in the western states.

It was increased by a graduated scale from three per cent. to seven per cent. and the income tax exemption reduced from $4000 to $3000. Articles added to the free list include pig iron, ferric manganese ore, cheap grades of iron, cattle and other food animals, wheat, flour and bran, hemp, sugar refining machinery, school textbooks, sand blast machinery, indigo dyes, photographic moving picture films, cement, asphalt and many other articles.

Woolen Goods

A new classification for woolen stockings, gloves and mittens makes a reduction from the house rate on these valued at less than $1.20 a dozen and an increase on those above. Angora wool and articles made from it were given a higher duty than in the house bill.

The house rate on silk ribbons and narrow fabrics was increased from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent, while the house rates on common paper box boards and papers used for photographic prints were reduced. An increase rate of duty was provided for lithographic views of American scenes and the rate on surface coated paper was made for covering boxes was increased from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. Reduction in the house duties was made on wearing apparel, of cattle or goatskins, fur hats, rough forms of dog and goat skins, camels hair press, cloth for use in cotton oil mills and through a re-classification rates will be slightly reduced from those fixed by the house on fancy grades of cotton cloth. The house rate on cotton stockings and half hose was also reduced.

Chemical Schedule

Reductions in the house rates in the chemical schedule covered perfumery and medicinal soaps, crude chicken, linseed oil, chlorate of potash and several other items while the house rates were increased on many kinds of acids and on some classes of paints. The senate succeeded in reducing the house rates on high power lenses, surveying instruments, telescopes and the like. Most of the senate changes reducing the rates on iron and steel products were approved by the conference committee making the rates considerably lower on the average than those of the original house bill.

The tariff on automobiles, fixed by the house at 45 per cent and radically cut by the senate, was finally compromised by making a new classification of automobiles valued below $2000 for which a rate of 30 per cent was fixed.

Cattle on Free List

Some of the more important changes agreed to by the conference covered the schedule of agricultural products and provisions. In addition to putting the conference agreed to reductions on oats, butter, honey, extracts of meat, currants, chocolate and other provisions and vegetables.

The given per cent rebate in tariff made by the house bill on goods brought in American ships was retained in the conference with the addition of provision that it should not be so construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of any treaty the United States now has. The conference also amended that portion of a house bill requiring foreign manufacturers or exporters to submit their books to American customs agents, that if the exporter refuses to allow such examination an additional tariff duty of 15 per cent ad valorem can be imposed on his exports.

Section Eight Repealed

The conference agreement repeals section eight of the Cuban reciprocity treaty, which provides that Cuba should have a preferential rate of 20 per cent on sugar and that the general sugar tariff of the United States should not be reduced below the figures of the Dingley tariff law of 1897. The section of the house bill which would have thrown outside the civil service the entire force of income tax administrators for a period of two years was changed by the conference committee. In its new form employees of the internal revenue office in Washington "below the grade of chief of divisions" concerned with the income tax must still be selected under civil service rules. Those outside may be appointed by the commission of internal revenue under rules fixed by the secretary of the treasury. The new provision of the income tax allowing a $4000 exemption for a married person provides that "only one deduction of $4000 shall be made from the aggregate income of both husband and wife, when living together."

No definite agreement had been reached by the democratic conference members today as to what should be done with the cotton futures question but it was expected that when a second conference is arranged on the amendment it may be dropped from the bill. While President Wilson has favored the proposed compromise plan advanced by house leaders he made it plain today he would not insist on its being put into the bill.

me that the question of leasing another such tract would be thought of.

Only a few years ago the Alken street playground could have been purchased for four or five cents a foot, but when seven years ago the city council considered its purchase for a playground the once river flats had been filled over with the street and the price was forty or fifty cents a foot and the council did not think the city could afford to pay $60,000 for it. The result is, with the erection of a mill upon the land, the playground is lost forever.

To believe the citizens of Lowell and the citizens of West Centralville in particular want no makeshift of a playground in that part of the city, a mere loss for any term of years will not satisfy them. If the land be leased for ten years it may be taken away at the end of that period and if purchase should then be proposed the price will undoubtedly be much higher than today.

A believe the city of Lowell wants to own in fee at least a few of the numerous beauty spots along the banks of the Merrimack.

Now, if ever, is the time to purchase an adequate park and playground in West Centralville, and I trust you will do your duty and offer no makeshift.

Sincerely yours,
Harvey B. Greene.

Miss White, from whom he stole a dress Saturday while it was hanging on the clothes line, and Inspector Walsh, who made the arrest, both testified against the defendant this morning.

GIRLS DRIVEN OUT OF WORK

Cannot Take Jobs in the Stores Evenings and Lose $100 a Year — Married Women Want Places

Over 200 women and girls of this city who have been employed at the different stores and business places on Monday or Saturday evenings after completing a week's work in a factory or shop have been obliged to give up their store work in order to comply with the new labor law, which has caused considerable inconvenience throughout the state. The law states that no woman may work more than 54 hours a week regardless of her age or not more than 10 hours in one day.

It has been the custom of a number of Lowell girls who work in shoe shops or mills during the week to act as sub-clerks in the different department stores throughout the city and to earn enough money to buy their clothes. Usually these girls worked between two and three hours on Monday evening and about seven hours Saturday afternoon and evening and it was stated by a business man this morning that the sub-clerks employed by him received two dollars a week for this overtime or one hundred dollars a year. They also were allowed a discount on all purchases and many saved considerable in this way. During the Christmas holidays the girls not only earned their wages but were allowed five or six dollars discount on the articles they bought.

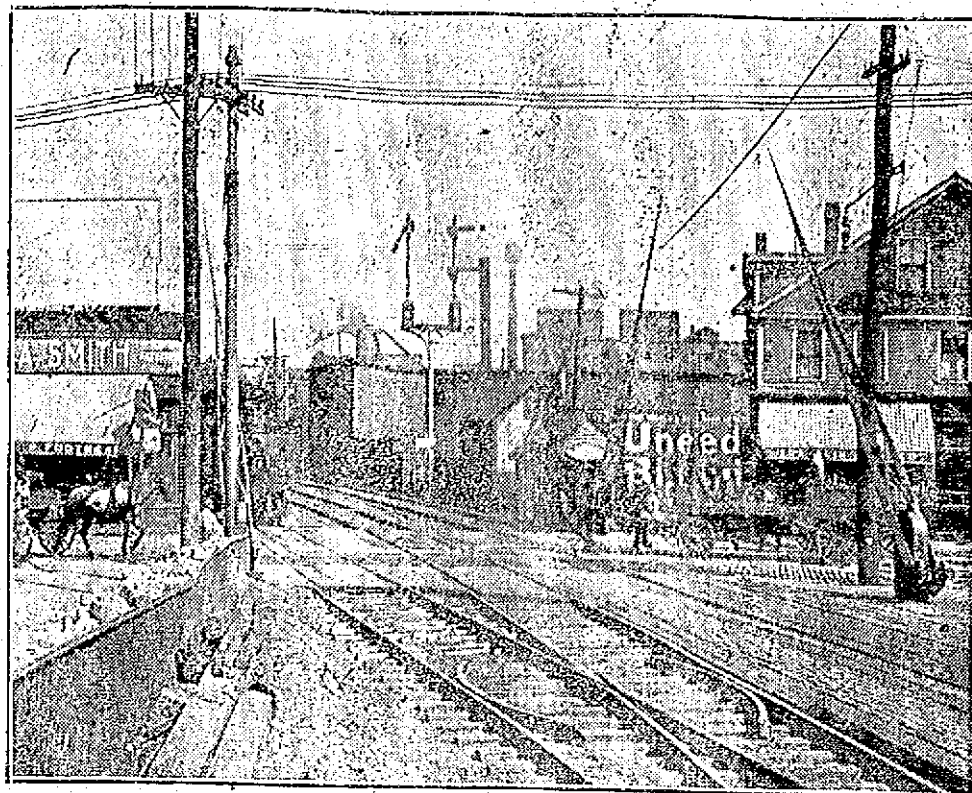

Of course now that the girls have been deprived of this opportunity of earning extra money they will not be given the discount on purchased articles as they have in the past.

This law affects all girls and women who are employed in offices or business buildings as well as those who work in the shops and only the girls who labor less than 54 hours a week may go into a store and work the ten hours that the business man usually requires them to on Mondays and Saturdays. If a girl has five hours on a Saturday morning in a shop or office she may only work five additional hours in a store that day no matter how much she has worked during the week.

Many of the stores in the city will open at 8.30 in the morning instead of 9 o'clock as in the past until some arrangement is made so that the clerks will not exceed the 54-hour law. This will take off three hours a week making the average number of hours of employment between 33 and 54.

NEW HAVEN VIOLATED LAW

Lawyer Brown Says Condition of New Haven's Finances is Due to Infringements in Law

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—What was regarded as the final day in the hearing of the Massachusetts public service commission on the petition of the New Haven road, for approval of a $67,000,000 issue of convertible debenture bonds opened today with two small stockholders and H. Larus Brown, counsel for the commission, speaking in opposition. The stockholders were E. H. Ensign of Boston and H. W. Ely of Westfield, both of whom asked the commission to dismiss the petition. Ensign suggested that the commission recommend the petition to the stockholders. Mr. Ely presented a plan authorizing the company to raise the money by issue of preferred stock convertible into common stock. He declared that such a plan could be approved by the commission. Mr. Ely admitted that at times he had acted as counsel for the railroad.

Mr. Brown occupied the remainder of the morning session, the understanding being that Charles Choate, Jr., attorney for the road, should take the afternoon in his closing argument for the company. Mr. Brown said that the situation of the New Haven road furnished a striking lesson of the cost of disobeying the law. He reviewed certain acts of the company, such as the consolidation with the Consolidated R. R. Co., the issue of capital stock in alleged violation of the Massachusetts statutes, the issuance of interest-free bonds beyond a certain amount, the taking and holding of stock of other corporations and the guaranteeing of the indebtedness of other corporations.

Violations Continued
"In 1909 the company promised in the future to obey the Massachusetts law," said Mr. Brown, "but violations did not cease. In 10 years the company has spent $370,000,000 of which $245,000,000 has been spent not for steel cars and signals, but for securities, which cannot be marketed for what they cost."

Mr. Brown asked the commission to consider the amount of steel equipment, safety signals and even electrification that $370,000,000 would buy and also to consider his allegation that every cent had been spent in violation of Massachusetts laws. He then gave a detailed argument, reviewing the history of the terms of the present law. After stating that in the light of the violation report the present capital stock and premiums of the New Haven must be taken by the commission to be $17,573,537. He claimed that further authorizing of an issue of bonds is impossible under the law.

The convertible feature of the debentures was discussed by Mr. Brown, who claimed that practically all Massachusetts lawyers who had studied the question were of but one opinion as to their issue.

CHANGES IN TARIFF BILL

Important Alterations in Underwood-Simmons Measure Which Was Made Public Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The conference report on the Underwood-Simmons bill, representing the final adjustment of disputes between the senate and house over the former's amendments, was made public early today when the democratic managers submitted it for the first time to their republican colleagues on the conference committee.

In the form in which the tariff bill ultimately will go to President Wilson for his signature it carries many changes from the original Underwood bill passed by the house last May. While the senate gave way on many of its amendments in the two weeks' fight in the conference committee many important changes were retained and the general average of rates of the house bill was reduced about four per cent. ad valorem.

Important Changes
In a summary of the agreements that have been informally announced from day to day during the conference work the report shows the following important alterations of the original Underwood house bill:

The tax rate on incomes above $15,000.

$60 Taken From the Waiting Room at No. Chelmsford

The general store and waiting room at Stevens corner, North Chelmsford, was broken into some time last night or early this morning and about $60 in money and a large amount of cigars and tobacco taken. The store is owned by Mrs. J. Marinell. The North Chelmsford market, located across the street from the waiting room was also entered but the thieves were less fortunate there and with the exception of a few small articles nothing was taken.

The building in which Mrs. Marinell's store is located was entered through a cellar window. When the clerk opened up this morning he found the whole store ransacked and the money which was left in a cash drawer behind the counter was gone. Cigars and tobacco amounting to about $20 were also stolen and several other minor things were missing.

The thieves also entered Anderson's store through the cellar. They left no clue, but the police are at work on the case and expect to soon apprehend the culprits.

WEDDING DECLARED OFF

Paul Zerrahn Who Worked in Lowell Claimed to Have Been Blackjacked

Paul Zerrahn, a prominent young man of Milton, and son of Carl G. Zerrahn, returned to his home last evening after having been absent since Monday last. Following his disappearance last week, announcement was made of the indefinite postponement of his marriage to Miss Madeline Brown, a society girl of Quincy. Mr. Zerrahn, senior, stated that his son had been away on a business trip. He also said that the young man's return will not affect the indefinite postponement of the wedding.

Injured in Lowell

Mr. Zerrahn said that because of the poor condition of his son's health, it was thought best to postpone the wedding.

"The young man has not been himself since an experience that he underwent in Lowell some weeks ago. He has suffered from lapses of memory."

The young man was for about a year employed by the Lowell Electric Light corporation and it was on August 15 that the alleged incident occurred.

A son representative talked with Dr. Stewart, who was one of the physicians to attend Zerrahn at that time. According to the story received, from the doctor and others, Zerrahn, who was a collector, on the afternoon in question, came into the office, turned in his collections, and arranged his records and accounts, and went home to supper. Later in the evening, something happened, that affected his mental faculties. The company it is said, engaged the services of Dr. Ralph Stewart, and Dr. Field and a trained nurse to care for the young man. Young Zerrahn stated that he had fallen down a long flight of stairs in Howard street while on a business visit, and later, it is said, he claimed to have been thrown down stairs, or struck over the head with a blackjack. His stories were so incoherent and his mind so cloudy that it was difficult to ascertain just what did happen him. No complaint was made to the authorities.

Dr. Stewart said this morning, that the young man was slightly paralyzed on one side, but had fully recovered from his injury later.

The wedding, which was to have taken place Oct. 15, was indefinitely postponed after Mr. Zerrahn, father of the young man, and George H. Brown, father of the bride-to-be, had conferred on the subject.

Elaborate plans had been laid for the marriage. It was to have been an event of the season in Greater Boston society. The prominence of both families and the lavish arrangements that had been made caused the expectancy of society folk to centre on the affair.

Bishop Lawrence was to have officiated and the wedding ceremony was to have been performed in Christ church, Quincy.

Would Have Lived in Lowell

There were to have been eight bridesmaids. They were chosen from among leading families of Greater Boston. Several hundred invitations had been addressed in readiness for the mails. Even their new home was in waiting. It was a sumptuously furnished domicile in Lowell.

Then came the announcement that the wedding had been called off. So far had preparations proceeded that the young women who were to act as bridesmaids had completed plans for a trip to New York, where they were to procure their gowns. They were notified of the unexpected turn in the affair and their New York journey was cancelled.

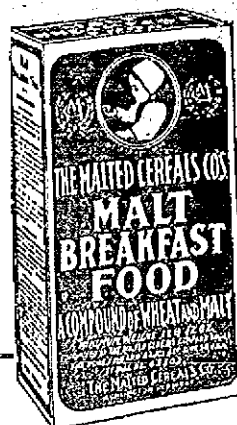

Carl Zerrahn, father of the young man, resides at 567 Canton avenue, Milton. He is identified with a leading Boston business house.

George H. Brown, father of Miss Madeline Brown, is an attorney whose offices are located in the Tremont building.

"To a reporter who called at the Boston residence in Quincy Mr. Brown said:

ULSTERS CAN'T STOP FREEDOM

John Redmond Says Carson's Policy Is Preposterous

Home Rule Will Be Established in Spite of Them, He Says

CAHRCIVEEN, Ire., Sept. 23.—"Sir Edward Carson and his friends have supplied the newspapers with amusing silly-season copy which has made the sea serpent pale into insignificance," said John E. Redmond, the Irish nationalist leader, replying to an address of welcome here yesterday.

The Ulster provisional government, he said, would require many millions of capital; would cut itself off from the imperial government and the Irish government; from old-age pensions and the benefits of the insurance act; from imperial grants for education, agriculture and public works; from the operations of the housing and land purchase acts and from the postoffice. No merchant could draw a legal check, give a legal receipt or recover a debt outside of Ulster.

"The whole thing is a gigantic and preposterous absurdity," he exclaimed. "It is meant merely for English consumption. But the English people are neither fools nor cowards. They won't be humbugged by talk about provisional governments nor intimidated by the wooden markets of Ulster."

In a second speech Mr. Redmond said that the home rulers were silent, law-abiding and orderly, while their opponents were shrieking and boasting of illegality and inciting to riot and bloodshed.

Knowing that the destruction of the home rule bill would mean the breaking down of the government's other reforms—Welsh disestablishment and the abolition of plural voting—and would mean also the restoration of the veto of the house of lords and the defeat of British democracy for a generation, he said, it was no wonder that Ireland maintained an attitude of self-restraint and confidence.

Speaking of Earl Loreburn's conference proposal, he said: "I have remained silent up to the present on this matter and my silence has been adversely commented upon in some quarters. I wish to say no word that might injure the prospects, however vague, of the bill passing by agreement. If Earl Loreburn's suggestions have had no other effect it must have convinced everyone of the true character of the mis-called Ulster opposition. It is implacable and irreconcilable and is based on no reason or argument. Its root is the old spirit of ascendancy."

The home rulers would not throw the work of 30 years into the melting pot, he continued. The only argument of the opposition was a brutal, no-passing to the demands of the British nation.

"We will establish the freedom of Ireland," he said, "without them and, if necessary, in spite of them. Our ship is at the harbor mouth, the glass is set fair and the orders are 'full steam ahead.'"

11 KILLED IN RACE RIOTS

Negroes Shot up Harriston, Miss. —Officers and Negroes Clash at McBee, S. C.

HARRISTON, Miss., Sept. 23.—As a result of two negroes named Jones going on a cocaine jag here yesterday, a race riot was started in which three white men were killed, five seriously injured, others slightly hurt, seven negroes killed and 16 slightly wounded. One of the negroes who started the battle by resisting officers and white citizens trying to arrest them, was shot and died; the other was captured and lynched.

The Dead

HAMMETT, SHERIFF G. B., of Jefferson county, white, shot while leading a posse to the place where the Jones brothers were hiding. KEINSLY, FORMER CONSTABLE FRANK, white, shot at his home after being called to the door. FREEMAN, CLAUDE, white, of Fayette, shot at the railway station while awaiting a train. JOHANNAS AIKEN, TOM WEEKS, JESSE THOMPSON, TELLER WARREN and THEAD GRAYSON, negroes killed during promiscuous shooting. WALTER and WILLIS JONES, negroes, lynched.

The Wounded

GILLS, Former Sheriff Orrin, white, shot in shoulder, and may die. Appleby, E. B., white, conductor of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad, shot in breast, leg and arm; dangerous. McCallie, William, white, shot in thigh. Keinsly, William, white, son of Frank Keinsly, shot in hand. Dennis, William, white, shot in leg. Bond, W. C., white, shot in leg.

Militia Called Out

Immediately after the first shooting, appeals for help were sent out and a company of militia was sent from Natchez, accompanied by the sheriff and chief of police. Negroes joined the two blacks in fighting the officers, being entrenched in the railroad station, and not until their ammunition was exhausted could the besiegers force their way into the depot. Even then the blacks resisted fiercely.

The negro youths who precipitated the riot were Walter Jones, 16, and his brother, Willis Jones, 13 years old. The negroes after a Saturday night celebration spent the early part of Sunday in "Negro Town." Here a dispute arose between them and two other negroes. Revolvers were drawn and in two duels the two other negroes were slain.

The two boys soon after leaving their home, went to the home of Former Constable Frank Keinsly, and when he responded to their call to come out he was shot through the head by Walter Jones. Keinsly's son, William, saw his father fall and reached for a gun, but before he could fire he received a bullet in one of his hands.

The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley depot is near the Keinsly home and the two negroes walked in that direction. A train had arrived from Natchez just a few moments before and Conductor B. B. Appleby was standing at the station talking to Flagman W. C. Bond. Without warning, the two negroes fired on them and both fell. Then the negroes directed their fire at Claude Freeman, who was waiting for a train to take him to his home at Fayette, Miss. He was instantly killed. The negroes then fled into the train, terrorizing the passengers.

A sleeping car from Natchez left every night at Harriston until the through train from Memphis to New Orleans arrives. After the train from Natchez had departed this car was a target for fire of the two negroes. While many windows were broken no occupant of the car was hurt.

Wholesale Killing

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage-way through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep, never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bloating, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

CIRCULAR FROM THE CARDINAL

At the various masses at the Catholic churches throughout the city yesterday morning, there was read a circular from His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, announcing the fact that on next Sunday the annual collection for the diocesan charitable institutions will be taken up in all of the churches of the diocese.

In this circular, the writer emphasized the importance and the need of contributing to the immense work of charity, saying that there are constantly hundreds of little children and aged people who seek assistance and who must be cared for. This burden is tremendous and constantly growing heavier. Consequently the charitable institutions of the diocese must advance and increase with the natural growth of the population and the facilities for the care of the needy and unfortunate must grow apace.

The circular describes the great work of the various institutions throughout the diocese, the difficulties which have to be met and overcome, and the efforts of those in charge to make them adequate for the purpose for which they were instituted.

St. Peter's Church

Rev. John P. Burns was the preacher at the 11 o'clock high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday morning and referring to the charity offering, he said that here in Lowell on the borders of St. Peter's parish there is situated a most laudable charity where more than 100 children are tenderly cared for by the good sisters. Surely, he said, such institutions as the new St. Peter's orphanage, and there are many in the diocese, deserve the assistance of the parishioners. In the distribution of the charitable fund gained from the collections during the year 1912, St. Peter's asylum was given $1000.

Announcement was made of the fact that the October devotions of the Holy Rosary will commence on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock and will continue every evening throughout the month, beginning on Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock. The speaker urged all who can do so, to attend these devotions, and he preached an inspiring sermon on The Rosary.

Thomas Markham, who is soon to enter the American College at Rome to study for the priesthood, is a well-known member of St. Peter's parish, and is held in high esteem by all who know him.

Catholic Missionary Congress

In connection with the Catholic Missionary congress to be held in Boston next month and following out an arrangement prescribed by the cardinal, wherein visiting bishops and archbishops will visit various churches on Sunday, Oct. 19, it has been announced that Rt. Rev. Edward P. Allen, D. D., Bishop of Mobile, Ala., will visit St. Peter's church on that evening, and Rt. Rev. Philip J. Garrigan, D. D., Bishop of Sioux City, Iowa, will preside at vespers in St. Columbkille's church, Brighton. Both prelates are former Lowell boys, natives of St. Peter's parish, and their coming to this section will be pleasantly anticipated by their many friends here.

Invariably when in this part of the country, Bishop Allen pays a visit to St. Peter's, but his coming in connection with the great missionary congress will be of added interest.

MAN WAS KILLED

He Fell in Front of Car and Died in Hospital Soon After

A fatal accident occurred late Saturday afternoon, when an unknown man was struck by an electric car in Chelmsford street. The man, when taken from under the car, was in an unconscious condition and he died at St. John's hospital without regaining consciousness and his identity is still unknown.

The man, so it was said, was walking across Chelmsford street near Grand street at about 5.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and when an out-of-bound car traveling at a fair rate of speed reached a point near him, the man attempted to run across the tracks, falling in front of the car.

The ambulance was summoned and the unconscious man was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died a half hour later. The body was later removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Deceased was between 60 and 65 years of age. He had a gray mustache and was about 6 feet in height, while he weighed about 165 pounds. Nothing was found in his pockets that could help the identification, nor was there any mark on his body.

CRAP SHOOTERS "WISE"

GOT IN ON ANNOUNCEMENT THAT COPS WERE COMING AT LYNN AND BEAT THEM TO IT

LYNN, Sept. 29.—Although squads of policemen covered the Lynn woods reservation yesterday afternoon, in search of crap games which were reported to be in progress, their coming had apparently been well announced, for none of the games were in operation when the officers watched the knots of young men assembled in well concealed spots.

Complaint had been made to Chief Burkes, who yesterday planned to search the woods. Knowing that guards were maintained near the Lynnfield-street entrance to the reservation, the policemen, all of them in plain clothes, entered the woods from the Wainut-street end, but despite the precaution the presence of the police was well known.

An automobile patrol wagon was sent along to move the dozen policemen from place to place, but the crapshooters easily beat that scheme and not a single arrest was made. The officers were convinced that there were many crap games pulled off, but they could not catch the shooters in action.

CROWLEY BACK FROM WEST

Where He Attended Street Railway Men's Convention

Tells of His Tour to Salt Lake City and Pike's Peak

President Fred Crowley of the local association of Street Railway Employees has returned to this city after attending the national convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railways Employees in

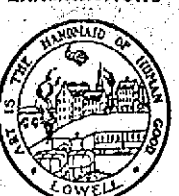

Salt Lake City. Mr. Crowley reports that it was the greatest trip in his union career and although Fred says it would take hours to describe the trip to the west he is giving his friends a splendid idea of what the country out there is in comparison with the east. Although the Lowell delegate has not made any report as yet he states that the business of the convention was very interesting and that the national body is in an exceedingly prosperous condition.

The salary of National President Mahon has been increased from $5000 to $6000 a year and the salary of the members of the executive board was increased from $7 to $9 a day. There were 243 delegates at the convention, there being 60 in the New England party. P. J. O'Brien of Springfield, Mass. was elected a member of the executive board in place of P. F. Sheehan of Brockton.

In the past two years the association has made a gain of 50,000 members. The insurance plan is working in splendid shape and in the past five years this branch of the financial department has increased $55,000. The New England party left Boston on Labor day and a stop was made at Niagara Falls and at Chicago. In the latter city the delegates had the opportunity of visiting the stock yards and were much impressed with the way the bulls and porkers were dispatched. The men spent several hours in the stock yards and considered it one of the greatest sights of the trip.

Stops were made at Colorado Springs and the journey to the top of Pike's Peak was some climb. Glenwood Springs was another place that interested the party and at Salt Lake, just outside of Salt Lake City, some beautiful sights were seen.

One of the things that impressed the delegates from the east mostly was the magnificent Mormon temple in Salt Lake City. Installed in the temple is a beautiful organ and many of the delegates stated that it was worth a trip to the west just to see and hear the organ. Many other beautiful cities were visited and the local delegates, as well as all other, were well satisfied with the trip and the results of the convention.

Champions Beaten in Slow Game—Bailey of Providence in Box

The Lowell team journeyed to Fitchburg last Saturday and played their last exhibition game of the season with a team composed of professionals from various other New England teams. Bailey of Providence was in the box for Fitchburg and held Lowell to five hits and one run, while Fitchburg batted out five tallies off Maybom's delivery. Bailey stood the Lowell batters on their heels, Miller, Magee and Daly being the only men who could touch him. Miller drew out two home plays, one of which resulted in Lowell's only score. Maybom was rather wild. Sewatt played a great game in centre field for the home club and also hit safely twice. The score:

	Lowell	Fitchburg
Sewatt	2	1
Maybom	1	0
Miller	1	0
Daly	1	0
Riddell	1	0

INTERNATIONAL CITY CUP RACE

RHEIMS, France, Sept. 29.—Only four nations drew for place today in the contest in the international aeroplane race at the aerodrome here under the auspices of the Aero club of France. The competitors represented only two nations, Belgium and France, and of these Belgium sent a single competitor, Albert Crochet, while France entered her full quota of three contestants, Maurice Prevost, Eugene Gillet and Emile Vedrine. The latter is a brother of Jules Vedrine who won the international cup race at Chicago last year.

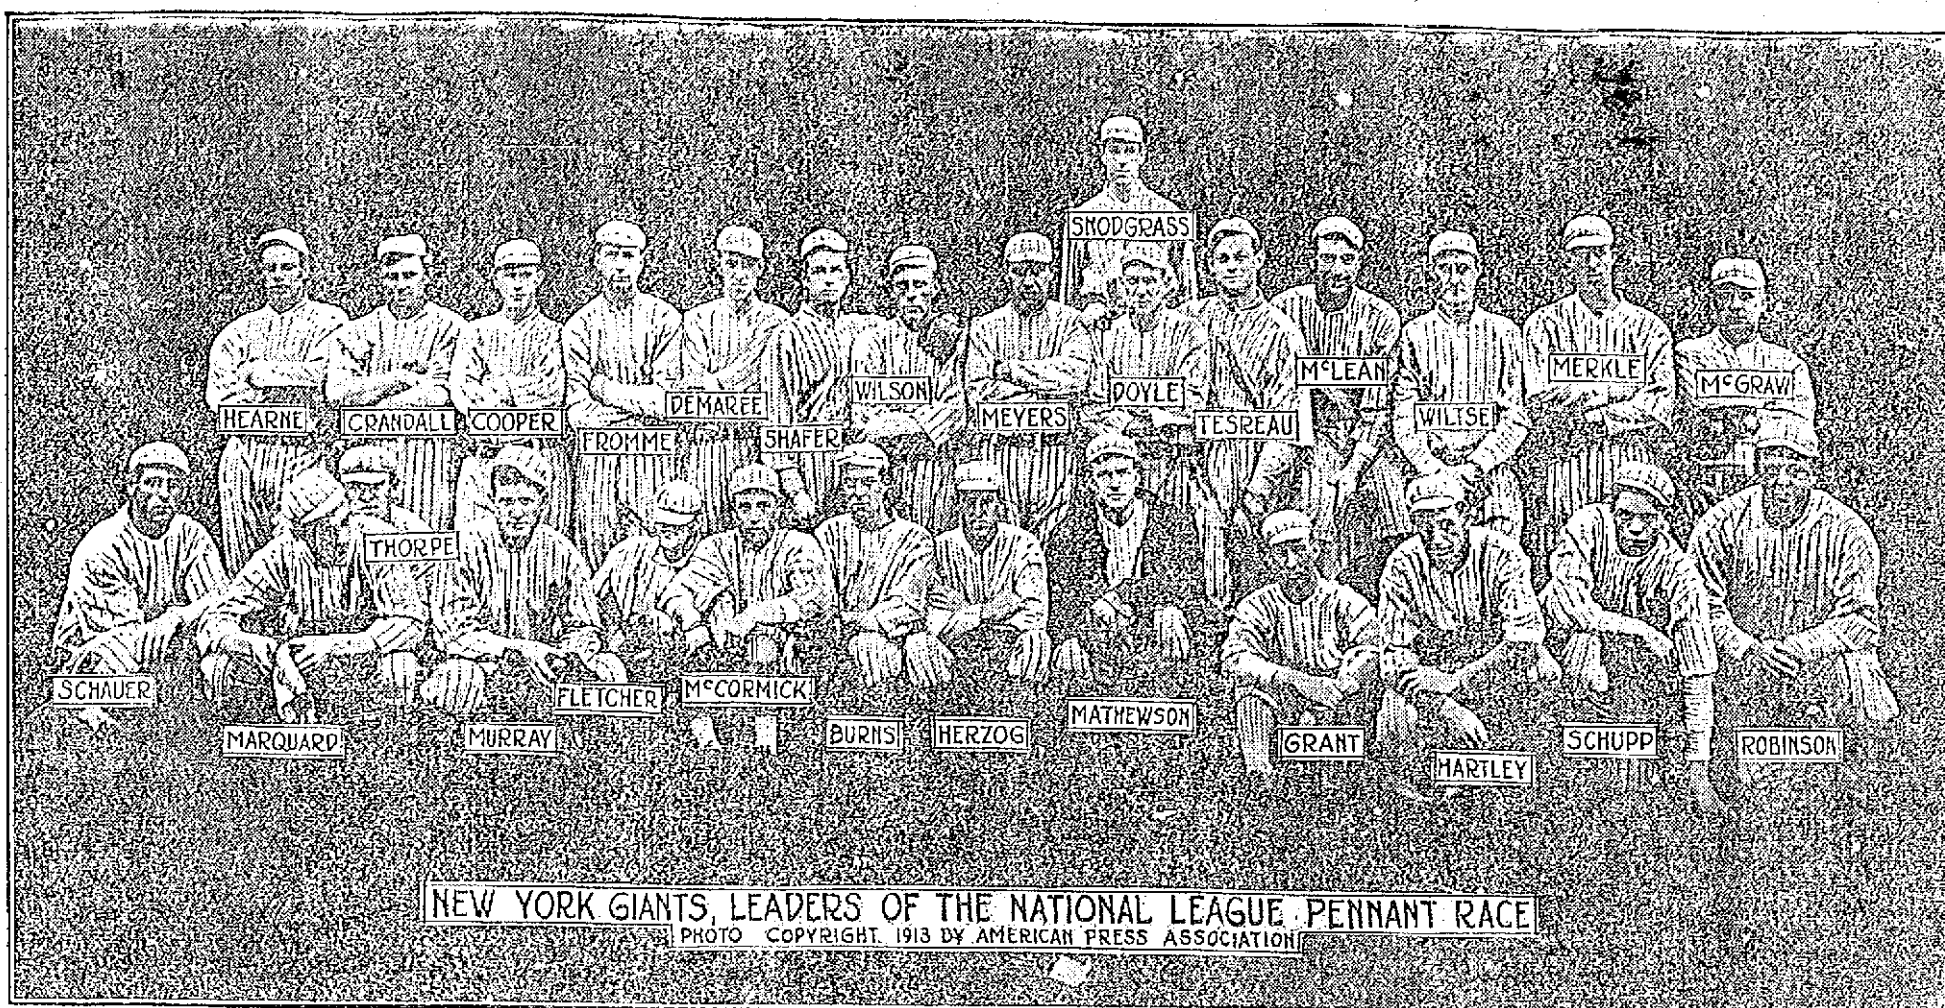

Much disappointment was expressed by officials and devotees of the aerial sport that the United States and other countries were not represented.

GREENFIELD, Sept. 29.—The funeral of Verner Belyea, the Norwich University football player who died Friday of injuries received in the game with Holy Cross at Worcester Wednesday, was held at the First Baptist church yesterday. Rev. L. J. Brace officiated.

The church was crowded and the streets in the vicinity were lined with people. Mr. and Mrs. N. Nearly 100 young men, former schoolmates of Belyea, sat back of the university men, and all his former classmates who are away at school and college returned for the funeral.

LOWELL WON OUT

Defeated Nashua High
at Football in the First
Game of Season

Lowell High engaged in her first gridiron battle of the season Saturday when her eleven successfully challenged the Nashua High school team in the latter city. The score at the end of the last quarter was Lowell 12, Nashua 0.

Brumelle pulled off the most spectacular play of the game in the first period when he intercepted a forward pass on Lowell's twenty-yard line and tore down through the Nashua team for the first score. Brumelle also featured the game by his superb defensive work.

Captain Jake Cullen at left tackle played a hard, aggressive game throughout and opened many holes for the Lowell backs. His work on the defense was great and he spilled every play directed at his position. Ferguson, at the other tackle position, also proved himself a tower of strength in the front line. Time and again did this player break up plays before they were fairly started throwing the Nashua backs for a loss each time.

DIRECT PRIMARY ECHOES

A considerable portion of the press is lamenting the working out of the direct primary law, alleging as an overwhelming proof of its assumed ineffectiveness the recent nomination returns. Why these should give cause for regret in this connection is incomprehensible for in two notable instances both the democratic and republican parties demonstrated unmistakably that the people are in sympathy with the spirit of the direct primary and will act in accordance with that spirit despite powerful party interest and boss dictation. Pre-nomination or pre-election activity in the ranks of those high in party councils does not prove that the direct primary law has failed. No regulation can prevent attempts on the part of erstwhile powerful dictators to lead the masses of the party blindly, but no one can compel the voters to mark their ballot contrary to their convictions.

The people fought for the principle of the direct primary at the last elections and the fight is by no means over. What has been done in Massachusetts is no spasmodic indication of popular perversity but a local growth of a significant protest against machine politics and bossism. It is to be hoped that the opportunity for a democratic victory in November will not be lost through any lack of harmony as to the method of conducting the campaign.

PROFESSIONAL PUBLIC SERVICE

The west, which has made some rather startling innovations in political institutions during the last decade, gives us of New England a subject for thought in a suggestion from Los Angeles. The Budget committee of that city recently made a report on civic progress and appended many suggestions for betterment, the newest and most important of which was the addition of a course in public service to the curriculum of the high school. As the Municipal Journal, commenting on this, says, the significance of the proposed innovation lies in its implication that there is an opening in the western city for the adoption of that branch as a life work.

Undoubtedly the great weakness in public life at the present time comes from the realization among those elected to political positions that their tenure of office depends not so much on efficiency as on their faculty of adopting themselves to the vagaries of the public mind. They understand that their term at best will be brief and that any attempt to achieve real reforms would make them unpopular and consequently render them subject to popular disapproval and political defeat. This regrettable condition of the public mind prevents efficiency and keeps municipal affairs especially in a state of continual disorganization. Those who fill city and some state positions frequently leave a private business temporarily which they had made eminently successful but fail to use the same care and caution in the public service which they had previously shown in their own interest. All cities of importance now realize this, but all do not try to remedy it as Los Angeles is striving to do.

The old idea that public office is a species of reward for political service is luckily dying out. So is the feeling that because a man has held an important office for many consecutive years he must necessarily abandon it to give some one else a chance. The employer of labor does not make changes which are liable to effect his business, lightly, and people in general are beginning to realize that those who hold political positions are trustees for the public. A capable and efficient man cannot be too long in office. Changes are frequently expensive, and the thoughtless individual who urges them forgets that he must pay his share of the expense.

We are also coming to the welcome realization that municipal positions can be filled satisfactorily only by trained men—men who have had technical training along the lines of the particular public service to which they aspire. Possibly the unfortunate public attitude which makes public service such a precarious venture for the average man has been fostered by the great influx of men into public life, who, though able and efficient in some particular line of work, were not adapted to the positions to which they presumptuously aspired. When the people come to understand the positive need for absolute efficiency in public servants we shall see the adoption of courses such as that suggested in Los Angeles to prepare men for political office as a serious and worthy profession.

In connection with this the Municipal Journal voices the following lofty aspiration:

"We hope to see the day when city employees of all grades, including the city manager or whatever official may exercise his functions, shall be selected with sole view to their efficiency in filling the position, no question being asked as to their politics or whether they are citizens of the city or state, but only as to their ability and past record in similar positions in the same or other cities, and when able men will take up the profession of municipal service as a permanent one, devoting their undivided energies to the study of this as others do to law or medicine. Until that day arrives it will be absurd to expect the highest possible efficiency in municipal service."

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

The very material increase in the attendance of the textile and industrial schools for the coming season is a matter of gratification to those in charge of such institutions and ought to be considered a subject of mutual congratulation among the citizens in general. Large classes mean large groups of future mechanics and trained men are vital to the industrial life of the city. It has long been a reproach to the management of the textile school, and possibly to the young people of Lowell in a lesser degree, that the splendid opportunities of that unvaried institution have not been more fully availed of by our local youth, but it is to be hoped that the large classes there at present are an indication of improvement.

It may be that elation over the large attendance at our schools at present is premature because of the new juvenile law and the enforced school attendance of many who otherwise would be working, but even so there is no reason to regret their choice. Those who have been thrown out of work by its provisions have chosen wisely if they have determined to improve their time of enforced waiting by attending some of our schools. When the law is amended so as to allow them to return to work or when the period of probation is over they will be all the better prepared to face the struggles of life if they have spent the interval in training hand and mind.

FIRE PERILS

The commissioner of public property is doing well indeed in enforcing the regulations forbidding the placing of shingles or other combustible materials on buildings within the fire zone. Our risks are sufficiently glaring at present with our flimsy building construction and the congested condition of many of our central districts without adding to them by entirely preventable means. The activity of the building inspector may be considered a hardship by the offending parties, but it will be commended unreservedly by those owners of valuable property who comply with the law, but whose homes, stores or other buildings are in danger from the carelessness of others. We have been particularly fortunate in escaping serious conflagrations in recent years but there have been many in nearby towns and cities recently that ought to serve as a warning to all and a particular incentive to the authorities to go on with the good work they have so well begun.

It is to be hoped that Colonel Mulhall does not visit us during the period of fervid winter discussion for he might set some investigators on the trail of an insidious lobby leading to the Harvard brewery. It is just possible that in condemning our water supply we are acting in a way unfortunately typical of too many of our residents—knocking where we ought to boost. After the filter beds and endless experimenting we may find that the water has been automatically purified by faithful public attention.

PHILIPPINE SLAVERY

The new governor-general of the Philippines, acting on orders from the secretary of war, is to make a full investigation of the many charges of slavery in the Philippines that have been made recently by those who are in a position to know real conditions in the islands. It is surely a reflection on our vaunted ideals that we should have permitted slavery in the archipelago while imposing on its natives the unwelcome advantages of our constitution. Even those who so assiduously declare their unit for self-government cannot approve of their being made slaves.

AUTUMN WALKS

The philosopher and the poet may see in the gorgeous tints of autumn only the tawdry beauty of decay and death, but the average individual whose sense of enjoyment is not warped by unhealthy reflection will see in its sights and sounds and perfume the most lavish natural glory of the year. To those who walk abroad in an appreciative mood there is more gold under foot than in the faded El Dorado, and the scenic artists of the woods have painted pictures that shame the canvases of the masters. There is still a subtle fragrance of apple and wild grape in the air and a symphony of all the sweet sounds that will soon be silent.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

AND RIGHTLY SO
Fall River Globe: Candidate Gardner has given notice that he has no use for Chicagoan methods of the republican state committee in the management of his campaign and Candidate Barry has made a suggestion to the same effect with respect to Chairman Liley of the democratic state committee. Seemingly candidates nowadays, are getting to be as cocky and independent as the voters themselves and inclined to add the policy of every man his own boss.

SMOKE NUISANCE?
Worcester Post: Now the Pennsylvania supreme court holds that a railroad company may be liable in damages for the injury caused to property from the soot and other emissions of its locomotives. Courts have generally held heretofore that the smoke was a necessary incident of railroad operation. The new doctrine means a wide-reaching significance as to the smoke nuisance generally.

WHY SHE COMES
Brookline Times: Mrs. Pankhurst says her object in visiting America is to explain why the suffragettes have employed violence in their campaign. With Americans thought we knew, but of course we'll be polite enough to listen. Incidentally, Mrs. Pankhurst pays us a lovely compliment on our liberality, having decided that passing a law is a better price for her explanation than a per-word rate from the magazines.

TIME WILL SHOW
Woonsocket Call: Some people think the president is pushing the Monroe Doctrine too far in Central America. But time will show. Certainly there are many revolutionary administrations that do not deserve to be recognized by a respectable government.

HOME TRADE
Manchester Mirror: Even if you work for salary or wages, the relation of employer and employee, by patronizing the home dealer, may be exceedingly valuable in some future exigency. The man to whom you have given your trade becomes your friend, and if he can find some way to throw favors in your direction, he is glad to do it.

CAUSING A HOWL
Lynn Telegram: If the Boston & Maine railroad is allowed to raise the $5,000,000 additional to its income by the freight rates according to the schedule it has formed, there will be a loud wail from the shippers of the state. The officials of the road say that if the increase to make up the $5,000,000 additional income is put on freight alone, the rate will be 21 cents difference on the large shipper and the shoe manufacturers of Lynn will suffer from the increase. In fact all large shippers along the lines of the B. & M. will be affected and already a howl has gone up at the mere suggestion.

THE WRONG TOWN
Brookline Enterprise: It is said that six socialists have been driven from Pittsburgh in a year because of their opinions. What business has a socialist to expect to "get by" in that town anyway?

THREE DROWNED

Motor Boat Run Down

and Sunk by Fishing

Schooner

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 29.—Three men were drowned and two rescued when the motor boat on which they were cruising was run down and sunk early yesterday morning by a fishing schooner in Gloucester harbor.

The drowned:

William Goss, 37, 11 Home street, Beverly.

Charles E. Bonney, 35, 461 Rantoul street, Beverly.

Spencer Abell, 40, 81-2 Franklin place, Beverly.

The rescued:

Albert H. Peterson, 35, Elliott chambers, Beverly.

Charles E. Webber, 35, 461 Rantoul street, Beverly, owner of the motor boat.

All were of Beverly, employees of the United Shoe Machinery company and members of the Shoe Machinery Athletic association Motor Boat club.

In the inky darkness which enveloped the harbor shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning, while three of the motorboat crew were below, the motorboat schooner Rhodora crashed into the motor boat as she attempted to cut across the schooner's bow. The schooner splintered the lighter craft in the impact.

Charles E. Webber, the owner of the boat, who was steering it at the time, and Albert H. Peterson, who were the only two men above deck, were hurled into the water to flounder about, numbed by the cold, until picked up by the crew of the schooner. William Goss, Charles E. Bonney and Spencer Abell sank with the craft. They had no chance, trapped by the splintered wreckage above them, with the instant flood of water into their narrow quarters.

Only one body, that of Charles E. Bonney, was recovered. It was found in the wreckage of the motorboat by G. G. Fitzpatrick, a diver sent down by the Gloucester police.

IN HIS OLD TIME PULPIT

Rev. B. A. Willmott
Preached at the First
Cong. Church

"Conditions of Law and Grace" Subject of
Evening Sermon

Rev. B. A. Willmott preached yesterday morning and again in the evening at the First Congregational church. Mr. Willmott, now of Quincy, is a former pastor of the First Congregational church and he was pleased to meet his old parishioners yesterday. In the evening he spoke on "Conditions of Law and Grace." He said in part:

"There was a time in the history of our race when men understood so little of the universe that they were always living in terror of the forces with which they were surrounded; and they sought to placate those powers, by sacrifices. It is not to be wondered at, when we think how insignificant is man in the presence of those forces. Yet, as men have come to know this universe, they are assuring us that it is friendly—that the things we fear are not to be dreaded,—that the laws of the universe are beneficent, and its purposes toward us are good. The only thing asked of us is that we understand its laws and its conditions of life, and obey. In all law there is this condition—if you obey. If you disobey, the forces which otherwise would be friendly, crush life into atoms.

In the same way it is true of society. Society can only exist as it is governed by law; but it is folly to think that to inscribe laws upon the statute books will hold society in the blessed coherence. It is folly to dream that the forces which otherwise would be friendly, crush life into atoms. The same law is operative in society that is operative in the universe, and society can only be blessed as the community is a law-abiding community. Obey the law and you will have beneficent society; disobey, and you will have anarchy by the by.

As American people need above all things to remember that the laws which govern the universe are for poor and rich alike, and the laws which govern society must be just as much for one as for the other. You cannot continue a social structure where you have one law for a rich man and another law for a poor man. I venture to say that today there are boys and young men playing craps in the streets of Lowell, and I venture to say if the police were to catch them, they would take them into the juvenile court. I venture to assume that the police know of places where gambling goes on by a certain social set that they do not touch and dare not touch. This is not peculiar to your city, however. It applies to every city in the commonwealth. In a certain city, three Syrians were playing dominoes at 12.30 a. m. Sunday. The police fellows did not know they were disobeying a law of the commonwealth. The police broke in the door without a search warrant,—a thing that they would not dare do in your home or in mine—and the men were brought into court and fined. Yet for seven Sundays, young men were playing tennis right in the eyes of the police. When these three Syrians saw them, I wonder what they thought of the administration of law in Massachusetts.

Three weeks ago, a poor English "bobby" stood on a street in London and saw an automobile exceeding the speed limit. It was the king's automobile, yet the chauffeur had to be summoned into court and pay a fine like any ordinary man. That is law; and that is the only way that America can stand the shocks of the centuries. You have a universe friendly, conditioned on "if you obey," and as in social life, so in grace, you have the gift of the glory of God in Jesus Christ, "if you obey."

I believe most sincerely that, as in the universe, so in society, so in my soul, it is well with me, if I obey. If I do not obey, I suffer, spiritually, as men suffer physically when they disobey physical laws; until at last the power of appreciation of divine things is destroyed and the soul of man dies. I wish that more and more, the young people of America would understand this truth,—that you cannot fool with God's laws. When a man sins, he suffers. As the man who obeys stands in the universe without a shred of fear, he who obeys Jesus Christ has nothing to fear here, and certainly nothing to fear hereafter."

REVOLVER DUEL

Man Killed, His Wife
and Another Man
Fatally Wounded

WINCHESTER, Ky., Sept. 29.—Ellis Brandenburg was killed and his wife and Ben White were fatally wounded yesterday in a revolver duel in a public road here which resulted from a quarrel over the efforts of White and his cousin Charles Hollin to drive past the buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg were riding. Hollin was arrested.

White and Hollin were on the way home from church, as were the Brandenburgs. When White tried to pass the Brandenburg buggy his own vehicle was upset. Some words passed and later when White and Hollin approached Brandenburg's buggy from the rear, it is said, the latter opened fire on them. They drew revolvers and returned the fire, according to Hollin. Brandenburg was shot through the head and Mrs. Brandenburg was shot through the shoulder. White received a bullet wound through the abdomen.

MEMORIAL MEETING HELD

In Honor of John O'Callaghan—
Fund Raised for His Children
—Tribute to His Memory

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Tributes in prose and poetry to the memory of John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish League of America and for 25 years a member of the Boston Globe staff, were voiced by men prominent in the home rule movement at Faneuil hall last night.

Not in years has the hall held such a gathering. Creeds were merged into nationality. Men and women came singly, in groups, in organized bodies until the hall was filled with an audience numbering 1200. Men prominent in public, religious and civil life were there. Some knew Mr. O'Callaghan for years as a companion fighting Ireland's battles or as a fellow newspaper man. The purpose of the meeting was not only to honor the memory of the dead patriot, but also to raise a fund for the education of his four children.

Secretary Jordan

The meeting was opened in an able speech by Mr. J. Jordan, secretary of the United Irish league, who said:

"The drum of the famous volunteers of the time of Tone and Grattan is beating yet. The spirit of Emmet and O'Connell of the early days of the last century has passed down through successive generations. It was shown in the days of '48, when Mitchell, Stephens, Smith, O'Brien and others were willing to risk all. It was prominent a generation later when Allen, Larkin and O'Brien went to their graves; when Capt. Condon, beside me here tonight, went to prison, and Deasy and Kelley were saved.

"Loyalty to Ireland marked the work of Isaac Butt, who created the home rule and led the cause of the party of Parnell with its illustrious names coupled of those of Davitt, Dillon, Redmond and those of the present day.

"It was to this later 'class' John O'Callaghan belonged. He upheld their hands in this country at a time when it seemed the cause was wavering, and he was the one man to step into the breach made by the deaths of Collins, Fitzgerald, O'Reilly and Flaherty in this city.

"He rose to a high eminence and his grasp of Irish affairs was not excelled in this country. He was guided in his desire to advance the cause so far as to see it through to the end. It is unnecessary to say how he planned and worked and how he believed. Though gone, his memory will remain as long as Irishmen take any interest in the government of their native land."

Mayor Fitzgerald paid a high tribute to John O'Callaghan. He said:

"Mr. O'Callaghan gave up his life to humanity. His life was consecrated to those ideals. He was the vital force for many years that crystallized the movements into repeated action at a time when action meant something to the cause of home rule. When the Irish landlords opened their purses to give several years ago and said they would defeat the aims of that age for another century it was John O'Callaghan whose voice was raised in reply.

"His ringing challenge that Irishmen in America would meet the landlords dollar for dollar, raised the hopes of its race abroad to renewed efforts; it stimulated the Irishmen here and despite the bitter fight waged against him to the ultimate outcome after the acceptance of that challenge was sent sailing across the broad Atlantic.

"His heart was ever in his work. He was a great man because he was humble. Is there any more worthy cause to bring us together than to honor a man who lived as he did? Had he lived in revolutionary days he could rank with Samuel Adams as a leader. Both had ideals. One a leader of the independence of America; the other for Ireland. Boston is proud of that type of citizen."

KEEP WOMEN FROM DANCE HALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The thumbs of Chief of Police White have been turned down hard on a plan of resort owners to continue the "Barry Coast" on a soft drink basis. "Hard drinks or soft drinks, dance halls are dance halls," said the chief today in an announcement that women would not be permitted in the resorts after tomorrow evening even if liquor was not served.

Notwithstanding Chief White's ultimatum the resort owners were busy today with preparations for Tuesday night's "grape juice opening."

AT NORTH BILLERICA

OVREN OVER BY WAGON WAS PAINFULLY INJURED—ENGLISH
TEA PARTY AT ST. ANNE'S

Raymond Hand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hand of North Billerica, was painfully injured late Saturday afternoon when he was knocked down and over by a wagon used by the owners of Mechanics park to carry prospective land buyers to and from the park to the North village.

The accident happened near the Talbot mills, where the horse became frightened at a passing train. Before the driver could get control of the animal it ran up on the sidewalk and knocked the boy to the ground. The horse passing over his stomach. The boy was taken to his home and medical attendance summoned. He received several abrasions about the body and internal injuries.

An English tea party was held Saturday evening at the parish house of St. Anne's mission under the auspices of the members of St. Elizabeth's guild. A was served at 8 o'clock and nearly 200 members and friends of the guild were present.

The following program was carried out after the luncheon: Piano solos by Sarah Stott; reading, Maurice Donnell; piano and violin duet, John

"It seems sad to look about and see such men as Dr. Timmons, Dr. Dillon, Mr. O'Callaghan and John O'Callaghan missing, all gone within a few months of home rule's dawning. I am proud to be mayor of a city at a time when there lived such men as these, men whose lives embodied the inspirations that brought about the independence of our glorious republic, men who did so much for the freedom of their own race."

Ovation for Capt. Condon

Capt. Edward O'Meara Condon was greeted with a mighty burst of applause. To see him standing on the platform it did not seem to those of the old guard that it could be 46 years ago this very month that he stood beside Allen, Larkin and O'Brien facing a judge and jury that had just brought in a verdict of guilty; a verdict that told them death was about to reach out for them, and yet, while standing there at the brink of apparent eternity, he voiced the phrase that has become immortal among the Irish race, "God save Ireland."

A mere youth, only 22, yet a veteran of our Civil war, where he fought with valor, he played a daring part in the sensational rescue of Col. Kelley and Capt. Deasy, for which Allen, Larkin and O'Brien paid the penalty with their lives; a fate ordered for Capt. Condon but checkmated by the protecting arm of Uncle Sam. For 11 years, the best part of his life, he was a prisoner in English penitentiaries. Capt. Condon's tribute to O'Callaghan's intense patriotism and his many ideal qualities was eloquent and met with hearty applause.

Rev. Fr. Lyons

Rev. Fr. Lyons, who attended Mr. O'Callaghan in his last illness, spoke very tenderly of him, saying that were he present he would appeal to the audience to forget him and work on for Ireland.

Sum of $5000 Raised

Mr. O'Connell Galvin then read the list of contributions, most of which had been received. The sum of $1000 was pledged on behalf of Lowell friends by Mr. E. J. Gallagher.

Dr. James T. Gallagher of Charlestown read a beautiful poem in memory of the deceased patriot and was vigorously applauded.

Thomas B. Fitzpatrick

Mr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, treasurer of the fund, said:

"It is true, I had a long association with Mr. O'Callaghan in the Irish cause. 'What I admired in him was his singleness of purpose, his tenacity, wavering not to right or left. I was on the other side when the sad news came, and from his words I could see that John Redmond felt keenly the great loss the cause had sustained. So did his comrades there."

"No wonder they should mourn. Mr. O'Callaghan was quick to see when Ireland's needs should be safeguarded. You do him honor in coming here tonight. I have received many letters expressing profound sorrow at his death. Nothing but his love of God and of his country could inspire such confidence as he showed and spread among his companions."

"Mr. O'Callaghan and the others mentioned are gone, but they have erected a monument that will live for all time. Human conditions have been bettered by their efforts. If we go over again next summer when the home rule bill is passed, we shall know what they have done."

"Let us stick to the cause, this glorious cause. The better the condition of the motherland the better the Irish race will be thought of here and all over the globe. We honor our race when we honor our leaders."

Letters were read from Cardinal O'Connell who contributed $100; John Redmond, who contributed $125 and the trustees of the home rule fund $1000. Mayor Fitzgerald gave $250; Mr. Fitzpatrick $500 and Philadelphia friends $1000.

And Sarah Stott; reading, Fred Timmons; song, Miss Clara Wain.

The committee in charge was as follows:

Miss Lucy Mills, chairman; Mrs. E. J. Garner, Mrs. George Hurst, Mrs. John W. Scott, Mrs. C. H. Bailey, Mrs. Thos. Ellis, Mrs. Albert Dawson, Mrs. John Sutcliffe, Mrs. William McBride, Mrs. James Fanson, Mrs. Charles Hurst, the Misses M. H. Brown, Ella Whitehead, Edith Stears, Eva Crumple, Mary Barlow, Sarah Stott, May Sutcliffe, Clara Wain, Lizzie Wain, Susie Walker, Irene Scofield and Messrs. C. H. Bailey, Arthur Brown, Charles Fitzpatrick, Geo. Wain, Elmer Stevenson, James Sanson, Fred Mills, Harold Tivy, Fred Brown and George Hurst.

Messrs. Timothy Mahoney and Abraham C. Flint were drawn Saturday by the selection to serve as jurors at the October sitting of the superior court.

A meeting of the Billerica board of trade is to be held tonight in Matthew hall and several articles of importance are to come before the members.

Rev. J. F. Limpton delivered the sermon at the North Billerica Baptist church yesterday morning. Rally day was fittingly observed with special music by the choir and exercises in the Sunday school. In the evening Rev. Arthur P. Wedge gave a stereoscopic lecture on missionary work in the western states.

Open an account in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank; interest begins next Saturday.

The Chinese was killed by Mason for attacking his little girl. He was sentenced to three years in prison but Americans and Koreans protested so vigorously he was released.

SCHOOL OPENED STRIKE OF 38,000

Studies Resumed at the Textile School Today—Large Class

The Lowell Textile school opened this morning for the 1913-14 year with a greater number of students registered than for several years. It was stated this morning that there were about 120 names on the register last year and that the number this year will exceed that by many.

Few changes have been made in the teaching staff this year and the hours of study and courses will be the same as in the past. Several pieces of equipment have been added to the apparatus used for manual training this year and the school will be more able than ever to take care of its students. It is believed that a greater number of Lowell boys will start in at the institution today than one year ago and there will also be a number from different parts of New England.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex.

Respectfully I believe and represents Edward Austin Auger, of Lowell, insaid county, that he was lawfully married to Isabella Mitchell Auger, now deceased, in the Province of Quebec, in the Dominion of Canada, at Magog,
Quebec, on the 22nd day of December,
A. D. 1901, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said Isabella Mitchell Auger lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Magog, aforesaid; that your libellant was always held faithful to his marriage vows and obligations, but wholly regardless of the same, at Magog, aforesaid, on or about the 23d day of March, 1905, did utterly desert your libellant and has continued such desertion to the time of the filing of this libel, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week,

Respectfully I believe and represents

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH

JEREMIAH SULLIVAN DIED THIS MORNING AT HIS HOME, 61 SUMNER STREET

Jeremiah Sullivan, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly this morning at his home, 61 Sumner street. The cause of death, it is believed, was heart trouble.

Mr. Sullivan, who was about 47 years of age, was an employee of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. Saturday he worked as usual, but in the evening he complained of not being well. Yesterday, however, he did not seem in a bad condition, and his family thought he was troubled with a slight illness.

This morning, however, his condition grew worse, and before a doctor could be summoned, Mr. Sullivan passed away. The body was viewed by Assistant Medical Examiner Dr. T. B. Smith. Deceased is survived by a wife. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker James H. McDermott. Funeral notice later.

TARIFF BILL

was increased by a graduated scale from three per cent to seven per cent and the income tax exemption reduced from $1000 to $3000. Articles added to the free list include pig iron, ferric manganese ore, cheap grades of iron, cattle and other food animals, wheat, flour and husk, sugar refining machinery, school textbooks, and last machinery, indigo dyes, photographic moving picture films, cement, asphalt and many other articles.

Woolen Goods
A new classification for woolen stockings, gloves and mittens makes a reduction from the house rate on these valued at less than $1.20 a dozen and an increase on those above. American wool and articles made from it were given a higher duty than in the house bill.

The house rate on silk ribbons and narrow fabrics was increased from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent, while the house rates on common paper box boards and papers used for photographic prints were reduced. An increase rate of duty was provided for lithographic views of American scenes and the rate on surface coated paper suitable for covering boxes was increased from 25 to 40 per cent. Reduction in the house duties was made on wearing apparel, of cattle or goat skins, fur hats, rough forms of dog and goat skins, camel's hair press cloth for use in cotton mills and through a re-classification rates will be slightly reduced from those fixed by the house on fancy grades of cotton cloth. The house rate on cotton stockings and half hose was also reduced.

Chemical Schedule
Reductions in the house rates in the chemical schedule covered perfumed and medicinal soaps, crude chicken, linseed oil, chlorate of potash and several other items while the house rates were increased on many kinds of acids and on some classes of paints. The senate succeeded in reducing the house rates on high power lenses, surveying instruments, telescopes and the like. Most of the senate changes reducing the rates on iron and steel products were approved by the conference committee making the rates considerably lower on the average than those of the original house bill.

The tariff on automobiles, fixed by the house at 45 per cent and radically cut by the senate was finally compromised by making a new classification of automobiles valued below $2500 for which a rate of 30 per cent was fixed.

Cattle on Free List

Some of the more important changes agreed to by the conference covered the schedule of agricultural products and provisions. In addition to putting cattle and sheep on the free list the conference agreed to reductions on oats, butter, beefs, extracts of meat, currants, chocolate and other provisions and vegetables.

The given per cent rebate in tariff made by the house bill on goods imported in American ships was retained in the conference with the added provision that it should not be construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of any treaty the United States now has. The conference also amended that portion of the house bill requiring foreign manufacturers or exporters to submit their books to American customs agents, that if the exporter refuses to allow such examination an additional tariff duty of 15 per cent and valorem can be imposed on his exports.

Section Eight Repealed

The conference agreement repeals section eight of the Cuban reciprocity treaty, which provides that Cuba should have a preferential rate of 20 per cent on sugar and that the general sugar tariff of the United States should not be reduced below the figures of the Dingley tariff law of 1897. The section of the house bill which would have thrown outside the civil service the entire force of income tax administrators for a period of two years was changed by the conference committee. In its new form, it places of the internal revenue code in Washington "below the grade of chief of divisions" concerned with the income tax must still be selected under civil service rules. Those outside may be appointed by the commission of internal revenue under rules fixed by the secretary of the treasury. The new provision of the income tax allowing a $1000 exemption for a married person provides that "only one deduction of $1000 shall be made from the aggregate income of both husband and wife, when living together."

No definite agreement had been reached by the democratic conference members today as to what should be done with the cotton futures question but it was expected that when a second conference is arranged on the amendment it may be dropped from the bill. While President Wilson has favored the proposed compromise plan advanced by house leaders he made it plain today he would not insist on its being put into the bill.

me that the question of leasing another such tract would be thought of.

Only a few years ago the Aiken street playground could have been purchased for four or five cents a foot, but when seven years ago the city council considered its purchase for a playground the once river flats had been filled even with the street and the price was forty or fifty cents a foot and the council did not think the city could afford to pay $60,000 for it. The result is, with the erection of a mall upon the land, the playground is lost forever.

I believe the citizens of Lowell and the citizens of West Centralville in particular want no makeshift of a playground in that part of the city. A mere lease for any term of years will not satisfy them. If the land be leased for ten years it may be taken away at the end of that period and if purchase should then be proposed the price will undoubtedly be much higher than today.

I believe the city of Lowell wants to own in fee at least a few of the numerous heavily wooded spots along the banks of the Merrimack.

Now, if ever, is the time to purchase an adequate park and playground in West Centralville, and I trust you will do your duty and offer no makeshift. Sincerely yours, Harvey B. Greene.

Mrs. Ashley Craig, mother of A. S. and C. A. Craig of Centralville, with their niece, Mildred Craig of Granby, Que., have returned home after a sojourn of seven weeks with the Craig family at 93 West Seventh street.
